Item 5. Other Events.

On March 31, 2003, the Company announced that it had selected a novel compound to move toward clinical development. The compound, named EP-2104R, is an imaging agent specifically designed to enable detection of thrombus, or blood clots, in humans using MRI. The Company expects to enter human trials with this contrast agent in 2004.

The press release announcing the selection of the compound EP-2104R is filed as an exhibit to this Form 8-K, and is incorporated by reference into this Item 5. The foregoing description of such document and the compound contemplated therein is qualified in its entirety by reference to such exhibit.
