WRECO team...

We have come a long way since our transaction with TRI Pointe Homes, Inc. was publicly announced. Significant milestones have been achieved on the long pathway to closing the transaction. Several decisions have been made that will directly impact each of you as more fully described below.

First let me speak to the closing date. Currently, we estimate an early third quarter closing of the transaction which represents a slight change from our original estimate of late second quarter. The TRI Pointe team is highly motivated to keep the process on schedule. They are excited about our five operating subsidiaries joining the TRI Pointe team.

A number of transition teams have been working hard over the last several months to plan a timely migration from Weyerhaeuser to the TRI Pointe environment. As you can imagine, the list is long and includes topics ranging from IT to HR and every acronym in between. The teams report directly to TRI Pointe's CEO, Doug Bauer, and me on a weekly basis. I am very pleased with the progress which will facilitate a smooth transition to a new basic infrastructure necessary to conduct business. The goal, of course, is to keep the disruption to a minimum, and I have seen great examples of using this transitional opportunity to drive improvement or simplification that will make our work lives easier as we move forward.

Our planning process is complete for 2014. Many of you worked tirelessly to complete the process while the rest of you maintained your commitment to the hard work of selling and building houses, essentially bringing the plan to life. Thank you!

Set forth below are specific benefit and work environment updates that affect every WRECO employee, including those employed by our five operating subsidiaries. The information is not detailed, but represents several key decisions that I think you should know about. While more information will be communicated as closing nears, the direction is positive and worthy of sharing now. Remember, significant information on many fundamental questions was previously shared and is still available on the WRECO Share Point site in the document WRECO Employee FAQs Dec 2013.

Thank you for your continuing commitment to the future of WRECO. We have a unique value proposition, in large part due to each and every one of you, and I am truly appreciative of your commitment over the past 12 months. You will hear from me again soon when I have more to share about the ongoing transition.

/s/ Peter Orser
