 SELECTED NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
 September 30, 2004

Note 1. Condensed Financial Statements:

The condensed balance sheet as of September 30, 2004, the statement of operations and cash flows for the periods ended September 30, 2004 and 2003 have been prepared by the Company, without audit. In the opinion of management, all adjustments (which include normal recurring adjustments and adjustments to revenues for compliance with the company's revenue recognition policy) necessary to present fairly the financial position, results of operations and changes in cash flows at September 30, 2004 and for all periods presented have been made.

Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles have been condensed or omitted. It is suggested that these condensed financial statements be read in conjunction with the financial statements and notes thereto included in the Company's December 31, 2003 audited financial statements filed on form 10-KSB. The results of operations for the period ended September 30, 2004 may not necessarily indicative of the operating results for the full year.

Note 2. Revenue Recognition:

The Company derives revenues from the sale of systems, license and maintenance and services.

System sales: Revenue from systems that have been demonstrated to meet customer specifications during installation is recognized when the product has been installed, title and risk of loss have transferred to the customer and collection of the resulting receivable is probable.

System sales are accounted for as multiple-element arrangements. In transactions that include multiple products and/or services, the Company allocates the revenue to each element based on their relative fair value (or in the absence of fair value, the residual method) and recognizes the associated revenue when all revenue recognition criteria have been met for each element.

License and maintenance revenue: Software and maintenance revenue are recognized ratably over the contract period.

Service revenue: Service revenue is recognized after the services are performed and collection of the resulting receivable is probable.

Note 3. Customer Concentration: Eight customers comprised all of the Company's revenues for the Nine months ended September 30, 2004.

ITEM 2: MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Business Overview:

Table Trac, Inc.'s patented real-time management system product automates and monitors the operations of casino table games (blackjack, craps, etc.) The Table Trac(TM) system (patent number 5,957,776) is available for an installation and monthly license fee from the Company. The system is operating in 7 Midwest casinos. The Company's primary mission is to provide a high level of support for its customers systems in the field. Continued efforts to expand the Company's sales through marketing are ongoing. Development to expand the products offered, and expand the functionality of existing products have been ongoing. The Company realized revenues from these development efforts on new products this quarter, and is confident that further revenues will be realized before the end of 2004.

Results of Operations:

Revenues for the three months ended September 30 increased to $117,971 in 2004 from $37,962 in 2003. A sale of our new product line to existing customers and license and maintenance fees on the new systems installed in the first quarter contributed to the increase in revenues. In addition the Company has received the initial payment for a new system installation that was in progress as of September 30, 2004. The payment of $82,486 was recorded as deferred revenue and management expects to complete installation and recognize the revenue in the final quarter of 2004.

Cost of sales for the three months ended September 30 increased to $9,644 in 2004 from $0 in 2003 as a result of sales of our new product line. Operating expenses for the three months ended September 30 increased to $86,996 in 2004 from $43,617 in 2003. The major changes were increased payroll, employee benefit and sales expenses in 2004 compared to 2003. The result was that there was net income of $21,331 for the three months ended September 30, 2004 compared to a net loss of $5,641 for the three months ended September 30, 2003. The net income per share was $0.006 for the three months ended September 30, 2004, compared to a net loss per share of $0.002 for the three months ended September 30, 2003.

Revenues for the nine months ended September 30 increased to $440,509 in 2004 from $119,039 in 2003. A sale of our new product line to existing customers, sales of our table games management system to a new customer, and three upgrades to existing customers accounted for the majority of the increase along with increased license and maintenance fees.

Cost of sales for the nine months ended September 30 increased in 2004 to $34,416 from $853 in 2003 as a result of expenses associated with these system and new product sales and increased software license costs to maintain existing systems in 2004. Operating expenses in the nine months ended September 30 increased in 2004, to $278,340 from $129,896. The major changes were increased payroll, employee benefits and sales expenses in 2004 compared to 2003. The result was net income of $127,385 for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 compared to a net loss of ($11,564) for the nine months ended September 30, 2003. The net income per share was $0.033 for the first nine months ended September 30, 2004, compared to a net loss per share of ($0.003) for the nine months ended September 30, 2003.

Liquidity and Capital Resources:

There are no known trends, events or uncertainties that are likely to have a material impact on the short or long-term liquidity. The primary source of liquidity in both the short term and the long term will be sales. Management has been able to manage its expenses and cash flows for the swings in cash flows the Company has experienced so that monthly obligations are met by revenues from existing contracts. Management believes that the Company has adequate cash to meet its obligations and continue operations for both existing customer contracts and ongoing product development.

Safe Harbor:

The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 provides "safe harbor" for forward-looking statements. Certain information included in this Form 10-QSB and other materials filed or to be filed by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission (as well as information included in oral statements or other written statements made or to be made by the Company) contain statements that are forward-looking, such as statements relating to plans for sales and marketing, liquidity, and other business activities and developments. Such forward-looking information involves important risks and uncertainties that could significantly affect anticipated results in the future and, accordingly, such results may differ from those expressed in any forward-looking statements made by or on behalf of the Company. These risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to, dependence on a limited number of customers, general economic conditions, or changes in federal or state laws or regulations.
