NOTE 1 - Unaudited Interim Financial Statement

In the opinion of the Company's management, the accompanying unaudited condensed financial statements contain all adjustments (consisting of only normal recurring adjustments) necessary to present fairly the information set forth therein. These financial statements are condensed and therefore do not include all of the information and footnotes required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America for complete financial statements.

NOTE 6 - Discontinued Operations

On September 2, 2003, the Company informed The Home Depot, Inc., the customer that purchased more than 99 percent of the Company's wood products, that the Company would no longer do business with Home Depot due to increased difficulties in transacting business with Home Depot on a profitable basis. The Company stated to Home Depot that these difficulties included Home Depot's prohibition against price increases despite increases in the Company's increased costs of production, a diminution in Home Depot territories the Company was allowed to sell products to, and Home Depot's demands regarding returns of ordered products that the Company was unwilling to accede to for economic reasons.

The Financial Accounting Standards Board's SFAS No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets, addresses financial accounting and reporting for the impairment of long-lived assets and for long-lived assets to be disposed of. SFAS No. 144 supersedes SFAS No. 121, Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed of, retains the fundamental provisions of Statements 121 for (a) recognition and measurement of the impairment of long-lived assets to be held and used and (b) measurement of long-lived assets to be disposed of by sale. SFAS 144 also supersedes the accounting and reporting provisions of APB Opinion No. 30, Reporting and Results of Operations - Reporting the Effects of Disposal of a Segment of a Business, and Extraordinary, Unusual and Infrequently Occurring Events and Transaction, for segments of a business to be disposed of, but retains the requirement of Opinion 30 to report discontinued operations separately from continuing operations and extends that reporting to a component of an entity that either has been disposed of (by sale, by abandonment, or in a distribution to owners) or is classified as held for sale.

The Company has discontinued its wood products business. Consequently, the accompanying financial statements reflect the wood products business as discontinued operations in accordance with SFAS No. 144.

Summarized below are the results of discontinued operations:

	Three Months Ended October 31,		Six Months Ended October 31,
	2004	2003	2004	2003
Net Sales	$	$ 20,638	$	$ 161,391
Loss from Discontinued Operations	$	$ (102,456)	$	$ (76,573)

The Company is seeking other business opportunities, but there can be no assurance that such opportunities will be identified, engaged in, or result in any profits.

Item 2 - Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Safe Harbor Statement under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995

The statements contained in this report which are not historical fact are forward-looking statements that involve various important assumptions, risks, uncertainties and other factors which could cause the Company's actual results for 2004 and beyond to differ materially from those expressed in such forward-looking statements. These important factors include, without limitation, competitive factors and pricing pressures, changes in legal and regulatory requirements, technological change or difficulties, product development risks, commercialization and trade difficulties and general economic conditions, as well as other risks previously disclosed in the Company's securities filings and press releases.

General

We were a wood products Company which has been in business since 1980. Our business has fluctuated over the years. We were almost wholly dependent on sales to Home Depot.

On September 2, 2003, the Company informed The Home Depot, Inc., the customer that purchased more than 99 percent of the Company's wood products, that the Company would no longer do business with Home Depot due to increased difficulties in transacting business with Home Depot on a profitable basis. The Company stated to Home Depot that these difficulties included Home Depot's prohibition against price increases despite increases in the Company's increased costs of production, a diminution in the Home Depot territories the Company was allowed to sell product to, and Home Depot's demands regarding returns of ordered products that the Company was unwilling to accede to for economic reasons.

The Company has discontinued its wood products business. The Company intends to seek other business opportunities, but there can be no assurance that such opportunities will be identified, engaged in, or result in any profits.

Results of operations

The Company stated to Home Depot that these difficulties included Home Depot's prohibition against price increases despite increases in the Company's increased costs of production, a diminution in the Home Depot territories the Company was allowed to sell product to, and Home Depot's demands regarding returns of ordered products that the Company was unwilling to accede to for economic reasons.

Net sales of the wood products business were approximately $0 and $21,000 for the quarters ended October 31, 2004 and 2003, respectively. The net loss from discontinued operations was $0 and $102,000 for the quarters ended October 31, 2004 and 2003, respectively.
