WIDEPOINT CORPORATION AND SUBSIDIARIES

NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(Unaudited)

1. Organization and Nature of Operations

Organization

WidePoint Corporation (“WidePoint” or the “Company”) was incorporated in Delaware on May 30, 1997. The Company is a global provider of information technology (IT) based products, services, and solutions. The Company offers secure, cloud-based, enterprise-wide information technology-based solutions that enable commercial markets, and federal and state government organizations, to deploy fully compliant IT services in accordance with government-mandated regulations and advanced system requirements. The Company has sales and operational offices strategically located throughout the continental United States, Ireland, the Netherlands and the United Kingdom. The Company’s principal executive and administrative headquarters is located in McLean, Virginia.

Nature of Operations

We provide secure, cloud-based, enterprise-wide information technology (IT) solutions to commercial enterprises, federal state and foreign governments in many different industry sectors. Our IT solutions are accessible on-demand through cloud computing and provide our customers with a set of streamlined mobile communications management, identity management, and consulting solutions that provide our customers with the ability to manage, analyze and protect their valuable communications assets, and deploy compliant identity management solutions that provide secured virtual and physical access to restricted environments. We use proprietary software, analytical tools and reporting solutions that enable our customers to actively manage their fixed and mobile communications assets and expenses and identity management requirements in an efficient and cost-effective manner in a safe and secure environment anywhere in the world.

The Company’s operating results may vary significantly from quarter-to-quarter, due to revenues earned on contracts, the number of billable days in a quarter, the timing of the pass-through of other direct costs, the commencement and completion of contracts during any particular quarter, the schedule of the government agencies for awarding contracts, the term of each contract awarded and general economic conditions. A significant portion of the Company’s expenses, such as personnel and facilities costs, are fixed in the short term. Successful contract performance and variation in the volume of activity as well as in the number of contracts commenced or completed during any quarter may cause significant variations in operating results from quarter to quarter.

2. Basis of Presentation and Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements as of March 31, 2016 and for each of the three month periods ended March 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively, included herein have been prepared by the Company, pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”). Pursuant to such regulations, certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”) have been condensed or omitted. It is the opinion of management that all adjustments (which include normal recurring adjustments) necessary for a fair statement of financial results are reflected in the financial statements for the interim periods presented. The condensed consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 2015 was derived from the audited condensed consolidated financial statements included in the Company’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2015. The results of operations for the three month periods ended March 31, 2016 are not indicative of the operating results for the full year.

Principles of Consolidation

The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company, its wholly owned subsidiaries and acquired entities since their respective dates of acquisition. All significant inter-company amounts were eliminated in consolidation.

Reclassifications

The Company reclassified amounts representing product development previously included in the caption “general and administrative expenses” on the March 31, 2015 condensed consolidated statement of operations presentation as a separate line item to conform to the current year presentation.

Foreign Currency

Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars based upon exchange rates prevailing at the end of each reporting period. The resulting translation adjustments, along with any related tax effects, are included in accumulated other comprehensive (loss) income, a component of stockholders’ equity. Translation adjustments are reclassified to earnings upon the sale or substantial liquidation of investments in foreign operations. Revenues and expenses are translated at the average month-end exchange rates during the year. Gains and losses related to transactions in a currency other than the functional currency, including operations outside the U.S. where the functional currency is the U.S. dollar, are reported net in the Company’s Consolidated Statements of Operations, depending on the nature of the activity.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the U.S. requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. The more significant areas requiring use of estimates and judgment relate to revenue recognition, accounts receivable valuation reserves, ability to realize intangible assets and goodwill, ability to realize deferred income tax assets, fair value of certain financial instruments and the evaluation of contingencies and litigation. Management bases its estimates on historical experience and on various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Significant Accounting Policies

There have been no significant changes in the Company's significant accounting policies during the first three months of 2016 from those disclosed in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2015 filed with the SEC on March 15, 2016.

Segment Reporting

Our customers and the industry view our market as a singular business and demand an integrated and scalable suite of information technology-based enterprise-wide solutions. Our information technology service offerings comprise a single business from which the Company earns revenues and incurs costs. The Company's information technology service offerings are centrally managed and reported on that basis to its Chief Operating Decision Maker who evaluates its business as a single segment. See Note 13 for detailed information regarding the composition of information technology services.

Accounting Standards Update

In March 2016, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) ASU 2016-08, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606): Principal versus Agent Considerations (Reporting Revenue Gross versus Net), which amended certain existing illustrative examples and adding additional illustrative examples to assist in the application of the guidance on principal versus agent considerations. The effective date and transition of these amendments is the same as the effective date and transition of ASU 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606). The new standard is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2017, and interim periods within those fiscal years. The Company is currently evaluating the effect that ASU 2016-08 will have on its consolidated financial statements and related disclosures. The Company has not yet selected a transition method, adoption date, or determined the effect of the standard on its ongoing financial reporting.

In March 2016, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) ASU 2016-09, Compensation - Stock Compensation (Topic 718): Improvements to Employee Share-Based Payment Accounting, which included amendments to simplify the timing of when excess tax benefits are recognized and cash flow statement classification. The new standard is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2016, and interim periods within those fiscal years. Early adoption is permitted for financial statements that have not been previously issued. The standard may be applied on a using a full retrospective, modified retrospective, or prospective transition method depending on the amendment adopted. Any retrospective adjustment shall be accounted for as a cumulative-effect adjustment to equity as of the beginning of the earliest comparative period presented. The Company is currently evaluating the effect that ASU 2016-09 will have on its consolidated financial statements and related disclosures. The Company has not yet selected a transition method, adoption date, or determined the effect of the standard on its ongoing financial reporting.

The Company files U.S. federal income tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service (“IRS”) as well as income tax returns in various states and certain foreign countries. The Company may be subject to examination by the IRS or various state taxing jurisdictions for tax years 2003 and forward. The Company may be subject to examination by various foreign countries for tax years 2014 forward. As of March 31, 2016, the Company was not under examination by the IRS, any state or foreign tax jurisdiction. The Company did not have any unrecognized tax benefits at either March 31, 2016 or December 31, 2015. In the future if applicable, any interest and penalties related to uncertain tax positions will be recognized in income tax expense.

As of March 31, 2016, the Company had recorded a deferred tax asset of approximately $28.9 million reflecting the benefit of approximately $25.9 million in net operating loss (NOL) carry forwards available to offset future taxable income for federal income tax purposes, net of the potential Section 382 limitations. These federal NOL carry forwards expire between 2017 and 2032. Included in the recorded deferred tax asset, the Company had a benefit of approximately $28.9 million available to offset future taxable income for state income tax purposes. These state NOL carry forwards expire between 2024 and 2032. Because of the change of ownership provisions of the Tax Reform Act of 1986, use of a portion of our domestic NOL may be limited in future periods. Further, a portion of the carryforwards may expire before being applied to reduce future income tax liabilities.

Management assesses the available positive and negative evidence to estimate if sufficient future taxable income will be generated to use the existing deferred tax assets. Under existing income tax accounting standards such objective evidence is more heavily weighted in comparison to other subjective evidence such as our projections for future growth, tax planning and other tax strategies. A significant piece of objective negative evidence considered in management's evaluation of the realizability of its deferred tax assets was the existence of cumulative losses over the latest three-year period. Management forecast future taxable income, but concluded that there may not be enough of a recovery before the end of the fiscal year to overcome the negative objective evidence of three years of cumulative losses. On the basis of this evaluation, management recorded a valuation allowance against all deferred tax assets. If management's assumptions change and we determine we will be able to realize these deferred tax assets, the tax benefits relating to any reversal of the valuation allowance on deferred tax assets will be accounted for as a reduction of income tax expense.

Awards outstanding and exercisable, March 31,	1,163,168	$ 0.77	1,650,269	$ 0.76

During the three month period ended March 31, 2016, there were stock options of 292,000 that were cancelled, of which 180,000 were cancelled due to termination of employment and the remainder expired unexercised at the end of the option term.

The weighted-average remaining contractual life and the aggregate intrinsic value (the amount by which the fair value of the Company's stock exceeds the exercise price of the option) of the stock options outstanding, exercisable, and vested and expected to vest as of March 31, 2016 are as follows:

	Outstanding (Unaudited)	Vested and Expected to Vest	Outstanding and Exercisable
Weighted-average remaining contractual life (in years)	3.3	2.9	2.9
Aggregate intrinsic value	$ 34,200	$ 34,200	$ 34,200

Aggregate intrinsic value represents total pretax intrinsic value (the difference between WidePoint's closing stock price on March 31, 2016 and the exercise price, multiplied by the number of in-the-money options) that would have been received by the option holders had all option holders exercised their options on March 31, 2016. The intrinsic value will change based on the fair market value of WidePoint's stock. The total intrinsic value of options exercised during the three months ended March 31, 2015 was approximately $178,200.

At March 31, 2016, the Company had approximately $217,000 of total unamortized non-qualified stock compensation expense, net of estimated forfeitures, related to stock option plans that will be recognized over the weighted average remaining period of 1.9 years.

Share-based compensation (including restricted stock awards) represents both stock options based expense and stock grant expense. For the three month periods ended March 31, 2016 and 2015, the Company recognized share-based compensation expense of approximately $87,900 and $37,500, respectively.

12. Earnings Per Common Share (EPS)

The computations of basic and diluted EPS were as follows for the periods presented below:

Diluted EPS Computation:

Adjusted weighted average number of common shares	82,559,822		81,743,812
Diluted EPS		$(0.008)	$(0.014)

The dilutive effect of unexercised stock options and restricted stock awards excludes 1,865,668 and 2,824,441 of options from the computation of EPS for the three month periods ended March 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively, because inclusion of the options would have been anti-dilutive.

Business Overview

We are a leading provider of federally certified secure identity management and communications solutions to the government and commercial sectors. Our on-demand solutions offer a suite of advanced and federally certified proprietary cloud-based software solutions designed to enable secure identity management and manage the complex processes and expenses associated with complex communication assets and services of any enterprise. For additional information related to our business operations see the description of our business set forth in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2015 filed with the SEC on March 15, 2016.

Strategic Re-Focus

Our objective is to grow our business profitably as a premier technology-based provider of both product and service enterprise solutions to both the public and private sectors. We are working to re-focus our strategy in order to improve cash flows by focusing our efforts on selling our higher margin services and de-emphasizing some of our lower margin services. We are also working to develop a more streamlined sales process in order to increase our market penetration.

We believe our portfolio of solutions, including Cert-on-Device, Derived Credentialing and other mobile credentialing solutions, address access to multi-level secure resources and message traffic based on entity identity, roles and privileges that can be validated by any logical and/or physical access point on a multitude of devices.

Our challenge is reaching potential customers and in order to gain market penetration as an organization capable of meeting an organization's technology asset and risk management objectives without significantly increasing their operating costs and allowing these organizations to focus on running their business. Generating positive cash flow and net income in the future will depend on our ability to successfully execute our on our strategy of growing of business through sales of higher margin services. Additionally, a significant source of our operating revenue is derived from fixed price contracts that may range from two (2) to five (5) years that in many instances include certain volume pricing discounts.

Expansion of customer contracts, our internal growth initiatives and merger and acquisition opportunities will increase our operational costs and may require additional investments in technology infrastructure and personnel.

Our profitability depends upon the type and volume of services performed, our ability to properly price our services, our ability to manage client service deliverables and expectations, and our ability cost effectively delivery our solutions without manually intensive labor requirements. To date, we have attempted to maximize our operating margins through efficiencies achieved by the use of our proprietary technologies and methodologies, and by offsetting increases in consultant salaries with increases in consultant fees received from our clients.

There is no guarantee that we will be able to achieve or sustain profitability in the future and an inability to successfully achieve profitability will decrease our long-term viability.

Results of Operations

Three Months Ended March 31, 2016 as Compared to Three Months Ended March 31, 2015

Revenues. Revenues for the three month period ended March 31, 2016 were approximately $20.5 million, an increase of approximately $2.8 million, as compared to approximately $17.7 million in 2015. We were awarded 5 task orders under the U.S Department Homeland Security ("DHS") blanket purchase agreement ("BPA") contract during the three month period ended March 31, 2016 as compared to 4 task orders award in 2015. Task orders issued included increased sales of higher margin device and accessory products. Our mix of revenues for the periods presented is set forth below:

Service Mix	THREE MONTHS ENDED		Dollar Variance
	MARCH 31, 2016 (Unaudited)	2015
Carrier Services	$ 12,019,873	$ 8,678,856	$ 3,341,017
Managed Services	8,488,767	9,016,712	(527,945)
	$ 20,508,640	$ 17,695,568	$ 2,813,072

We believe the following factors contributed to higher revenues:

§ Our carrier services were higher due to an increase in carrier service task orders issued and delivered during the quarter under our DHS BPA.

§ Our managed services were lower due to a decrease in software reselling activities (approximately $0.3 million in 2016 as compared to $2.2 million in 2015), lower managed service fees per unit as a result of achieving higher thresholds of units under management for our DHS BPA component agencies that were offset by greater volume of units under management, customer mandated rate reductions on our technical professional services (approximately $1.4 million in 2016 as compared to $1.1 million in 2015), partially offset by an increase in device and accessory sales (approximately $0.9 million in 2016 as compared to approximately $0.2 million). Software reselling activities vary from quarter to quarter and may not be predictable due to external factors outside of our control. Excluding software reselling sales, our managed services grew as a result of task order awards associated with our DHS BPA award and strong client retention.

Our managed services may experience continued growth as a result of several factors including additional task order awards issued to us by the three remaining major component agencies under our DHS BPA contract, continued future commercial awards in our sales pipeline, additional new federal and state awards in our sales pipeline, and potential new revenues associated with the introduction of our new identity management offerings that includes “Certificate on Device”, “machine to machine” credentials, and “derived credentials” through both our new and existing channel partners.

Cost of Revenues. Cost of revenues for the three month period ended March 31, 2016 was approximately $16.3 million (or 80% of revenues), as compared to approximately $14.1 million (or 80% of revenues) in 2015. The dollar increase was materially attributable to a greater percentage of carrier services attributable to mobile device equipment and accessory task orders issued and delivered during the quarter under our DHS BPA award. Cost of revenues could fluctuate depending on our sales mix between carrier services and managed services.

Gross Profit. Gross profit for the three month period ended March 31, 2016 was approximately $4.2 million (or 21% of revenues), as compared to approximately $3.6 million (or 20% of revenues) in 2015. The increase in gross profit was largely related to the higher ratio of higher margin device and accessory sales and expansion of managed services with existing customers, which were partially offset by a reduction in lower margin software reselling sales.

Sales and Marketing. Sales and marketing expense for the three month period ended March 31, 2016 was approximately $0.7 million (or 4% of revenues), as compared to approximately $0.8 million (or 4% of revenues) in 2015. The decline in sales and marketing reflects continued changes made to optimize our sales labor resources and sales commission agreements in a manner that incentivizes our salesforce to pursue and close recurring higher margin business. We may realize an increase in sales and marketing expenses as a result of the successful introduction of our recent channel partner strategy coupled with the introduction of our next generation identity management services.

General and Administrative. General and administrative expenses for the three month period ended March 31, 2016 were approximately $3.7 million (or 18% of revenues), as compared to approximately $3.7 million (or 21% of revenues) in the same period last year. Our general and administrative costs were flat compared to 2015 as many costs are fixed and do not fluctuate with revenue. We may realize a decline in general and administrative expenses as a result of technology improvements that will allow us to reduce overhead costs as we optimize our operating environment and streamline our processes.

Product Development. Product development costs for the three month period ended March 31, 2016 were approximately $257,400 (or 1% of revenues), as compared to approximately $68,800 (or 1% of revenues) in the same period last year. The increase in costs was due to escalated go to market development activities associated with our Certificate-on-Device identity management solution. The costs associated with maintaining and developing new products and services is vital to our ability to compete in our market place and deliver solutions that our customers believe meet or exceed their requirements. We view the current comparative increase in product development spend relative to the first quarter of 2015 as non-recurring and that such costs over time may rise and fall as we continue to support the go to market efforts of our channel partners.

Depreciation and Amortization. Overhead and administrative related depreciation and amortization expense for the three month period ended March 31, 2016 was approximately $94,000 as compared to approximately $98,300 in 2015. There were no material increases in our depreciate asset base during the quarter.

Interest Income. Interest income for the three month period ended March 31, 2016 was approximately $4,200, as compared to approximately $5,900 in the same period last year. The decrease was due to lower amounts of cash and cash equivalents being held in interest bearing accounts and the length of time those deposits were earning interest throughout the quarter compared to 2015.

Interest Expense. Interest expense for the three months ended March 31, 2016 was approximately $20,000 as compared to approximately $44,000 in the same period last year. The decrease in interest expense is due to repayment of over $2.0 million in principal payments during the second quarter of 2015. There were no significant changes in the interest rate associated with debt repaid during the three months ended March 31, 2016.

Income Taxes. Income tax expense for the three month period ended March 31, 2016 was approximately $1,400, as compared to approximately $32,100 in the same period last year. Income tax expense for the three month period ended March 31, 2016 predominantly consist of current taxes payable in foreign earnings in the Republic of Ireland, largely offset by tax benefits realized due to vesting of restricted stock awards during the quarter.

Net (Loss) Income. As a result of the cumulative factors annotated above, the net loss for the three month period ended March 31, 2016 was approximately $0.7 million, as compared to approximately $1.2 million in the same period last year.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The Company has, since inception, financed its operations and capital expenditures through cash generated from operations, access to a credit facility, the sale of stock, seller notes in connection with acquisitions, convertible notes, convertible exchangeable debentures, senior secured loans and the proceeds from the exercise of the warrants related to a convertible exchangeable debenture. The Company's immediate sources of liquidity include cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, unbilled receivables and access to a working capital credit facility with Cardinal Bank for up to $6.0 million.

At March 31, 2016, the Company's net working capital was approximately $7.8 million as compared to approximately $8.0 million at December 31, 2015. The decrease in net working capital was primarily due to net losses incurred while continuing to fund business development efforts and additional product development and promotion costs to bring our Certificate-on-Device solution to market. We utilized available cash and our line of credit to manage through collection timing differences during the first quarter.

We must successfully execute our business plan to increase profitability in order to achieve positive cash flows to sustain adequate liquidity without requiring additional funds from external sources to meet minimum operating requirements. We may need to raise additional capital or seek alternative debt financing to fund our operations and there can be no assurance that additional capital will be available on acceptable terms or at all.

Cash Flows from Operating Activities

Cash provided by operating activities provides an indication of our ability to generate sufficient cash flow from our recurring business activities. Fixed costs such as labor, direct materials, network and data charges, software and subscription costs and office rent represent a significant portion of the Company's continuing operating costs. Any changes in the Company's fixed operating cost structure may not be immediately reflected in financial performance, depending upon the nature of the change made, and the required time to implement.

For the three months ended March 31, 2016, net cash used in operations was approximately $2.0 million driven by our decision to continue to fund sales and development investments and support go to market readiness for our next generation identity management solutions and as a result of accelerated payments of certain accounts payable transactions that allowed us to generate revenue as part of a payment processing program.

For the three months ended March 31, 2015, net cash used in operations was approximately $1.3 million driven by our decision to fund sales and development investments and maintaining critical staffing infrastructure to support implementation of DHS BPA task orders and next generation identity management solutions.

Cash Flows from Investing Activities

Cash used in investing activities provides an indication of our long term infrastructure investments. We make recurring purchases of property and equipment to replace or enhance our hardware and software applications that support customer operations.

For the three months ended March 31, 2016, cash used in investing activities was approximately $39,200 consisting of normal replacements of computers and peripheral equipment used in operating and administrative functions.

For the three months ended March 31, 2015, cash used in investing activities was approximately $93,000 due to continuing property and equipment expenditures aimed at enhancing our internal infrastructure to support Certificate-on-Device growth.

Cash Flows from Financing Activities

Cash provided by (used in) financing activities provides an indication of our debt financing and proceeds from capital raise transactions and stock option exercises.

For the three months ended March 31, 2016, cash provided by financing activities was approximately $321,100 primarily reflecting scheduled term debt repayments of approximately $234,600. The Company was advanced approximately $3.8 million and repaid approximately $3.2 million in line of credit advances during the quarter.

For the three months ended March 31, 2015, cash used in financing activities was approximately $99,000 primarily reflecting scheduled term debt repayments of approximately $225,000, partially offset by net proceeds of approximately $126,100 from the exercise of stock options. The Company advanced and fully repaid line of credit advances of approximately $3.9 million during the quarter.

Net Effect of Exchange Rate on Cash and Equivalents

For the three months ended March 31, 2016, the net effect of exchange rate changes increased the translated value of our foreign cash balances due to appreciation of the Euro relative to the US dollar.

For the three months ended March 31, 2015, the net effect of exchange rate changes decreased the translated value of our foreign cash balances due to depreciation of the Euro relative to the US dollar.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

The Company has no existing off-balance sheet arrangements as defined under SEC regulations.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

There has been no material change in the Company's exposure to market risk from the information disclosed in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2015.

ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Disclosure Controls and Procedures

We maintain disclosure controls and procedures designed to provide reasonable assurance that material information required to be disclosed by us in the reports we file or submit under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms, and that the information is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. We performed an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures as of March 31, 2016. Based on the existence of the material weaknesses discussed below in "Material Weakness in Internal Control Over Financial Reporting," our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures were not effective as of March 31, 2016 to provide such reasonable assurances.

We do not expect that our disclosure controls and procedures will prevent all errors and all instances of fraud. Disclosure controls and procedures, no matter how well conceived and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the objectives of the disclosure controls and procedures are met. Further, the design of disclosure controls and procedures must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints, and the benefits must be considered relative to their costs. Because of the inherent limitations in all disclosure controls and procedures, no evaluation of disclosure controls and procedures can provide absolute assurance that we have detected all our control deficiencies and instances of fraud, if any. The design of disclosure controls and procedures is also based partly on certain assumptions about the likelihood of future events, and there can be no assurance that any design will succeed in achieving its stated goals under all potential future conditions.

Material Weakness in Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Company's annual or interim financial statements will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis.

Management assessed the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2015. In making this assessment, management used the criteria set forth by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO) in Internal Control-Integrated Framework (2013). Based on this assessment, management concluded that our internal control over financial reporting was not effective as of December 31, 2015 due to the existence of the material weaknesses as of December 31, 2015, discussed below. A material weakness is a control deficiency, or a combination of control deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the annual or interim financial statements will not be prevented or detected. Management has identified material weaknesses in controls over financial reporting related to inadequate transactional level controls over contract management and billing and inadequate entity level controls. Management has determined that we lack adequate documentation to provide evidence of operating effectiveness related to contract management and billing and entity level controls.

Remediation Plan for Material Weaknesses

The material weaknesses described above comprise control deficiencies that we discovered during our assessment of ICOFR and were not remediated during the financial close process for the three month period ended March 31, 2016. Management made progress is establishing accounting policies and procedures and is developing a plan to respond to identified material weaknesses described above and such plan may include investing in workflow technologies that can minimize manual reporting processes, modification of roles and responsibilities of contract support personnel to capture and store relevant documentation related to contract management and billing to support operating effectiveness and strengthen internal controls over financial reporting.

Changes in Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

Other than as described above, there have been no changes in our internal control over financial reporting during the three month period ended March 31, 2016 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

Because of its inherent limitations, a system of internal control over financial reporting can provide only reasonable assurance and may not prevent or detect misstatements. Further, because of changes in conditions, effectiveness of internal controls over financial reporting may vary over time. Our system contains self-monitoring mechanisms, and actions are taken to correct deficiencies as they are identified.
