A WORD ABOUT RISK

Investments in the Funds involve risks, including the possible loss of principal. The stocks of small- and mid-cap companies may be subject to above-average market price fluctuations. Stocks of large-capitalization companies have at times experienced periods of volatility and negative performance. During such periods, the value of such stocks may decline and Fund performance may be negatively affected. A portfolio with fewer holdings, such as

Edgar Filing: TRI-CONTINENTAL CORP - Form DEFA14A

Seligman Smaller-Cap Value Fund, Seligman Large-Cap Value Fund, Seligman Global Real Estate Fund, and Seligman LaSalle Monthly Dividend Real Estate Fund, may be subject to greater volatility than a portfolio with a greater number of holdings. The products of technology companies are subject to severe competition and rapid obsolescence, and technology stocks may be subject to greater price fluctuations, government regulation, and limited liquidity as compared to other investments. Investing in one economic sector, such as technology or real estate, may result in greater price fluctuations than owning a portfolio of diversified investments. There are specific risks associated with global investing, such as currency fluctuations, foreign taxation, differences in financial reporting practices, and rapid changes in political and economic conditions. Because of the risks associated with investing in securities of emerging market companies, an investment in Seligman Emerging Markets Fund should be considered speculative and not appropriate for individuals who require safety of principal or stable income from their investments. Investments in real estate securities may be subject to specific risks, such as risks to general and local economic conditions, and general risks associated with owning real estate. High-yield securities are subject to greater risk of loss of principal and interest than higher-rated, investment-grade fixed income securities. Fixed income securities are subject to interest rate risk, credit risk, prepayment risk, and market risk. U.S. government bonds that are guaranteed by the U.S. government, if held to maturity, offer both a fixed rate of return and principal value. Seligman U.S. Government Securities Fund may invest in securities that are not guaranteed by the U.S. government. Such securities have increased credit risk including, but not limited to, the risk of non-payment of principal and/or interest. An investment in Seligman U.S. Government Securities Fund is not insured or guaranteed by the US government.

The Funds within the Seligman Asset Allocation Series and Seligman TargetHorizon ETF Portfolios invest in Seligman Mutual Funds (Underlying Seligman Funds) and exchange-traded funds (ETFs), respectively, to implement their unique asset allocation strategies. Investments in the Underlying Seligman Funds or ETFs involve risk, including the risk of loss of principal. An investor in a Fund within the Seligman Asset Allocation Series or Seligman TargetHorizon ETF Portfolios will indirectly bear the operating expenses of the Underlying Seligman Funds or ETFs, as applicable, in which the Fund invests. Thus, the expenses borne by the investor will be higher than if he or she invested directly in the Underlying Seligman Funds or ETFs, and the returns may therefore be lower.

To the extent that any Seligman Fund invests a substantial percentage of its assets in an industry, the Fund's performance may be negatively affected if that industry falls out of favor. Accordingly, to the extent that any of the Funds within the Seligman Asset Allocation Series or Seligman TargetHorizon ETF Portfolios have a substantial percentage of assets exposed to an industry through their investment in the Underlying Seligman Funds or ETFs, as applicable, that Fund's performance may be negatively affected if that industry falls out of favor.

A portion of income from Seligman Municipal Funds may be subject to state and local taxes. Capital gain distributions are subject to federal, state, and local taxes. Income may be subject to the alternative minimum tax. Fixed-income securities owned by the Funds are subject to interest rate risk, credit risk, prepayment risk, and market risk. To the extent that a Fund concentrates its investments in municipal securities issued by a single state and its municipalities, specific events or factors affecting that particular state may have an impact on the municipal securities of that state without affecting the municipal market in general.

Consummation of Ameriprise's acquisition of the Manager will result in a change of control of the Manager and an assignment and automatic termination of each Fund's management agreement with the Manager, as well as the sub-advisory agreements relating to those Funds (or series of Funds) that have sub-advisers. On July 29, 2008, the Funds' Boards approved new advisory and administration agreements between each Fund and subsidiaries of Ameriprise, and new sub-advisory agreements for the Funds (or series of Funds) that currently have sub-advisers.
