Summary of significant accounting policies

Restatements

<Amended>

Maintenance costs, which were historically disclosed as part of the Research and development and maintenance line item within operating expenses in the semi-annual consolidated statements of income, are included in cost of sales and figures for the six months ended June 30, 2004 and 2005 have been restated to reflect such amendment. In addition, customer support expenses, which were disclosed as a part of operating expenses, are also included in cost of sales and figures for the six months ended June 30, 2004 and 2005 have been restated to reflect such amendment.

Pro forma stock-based compensation expense has been revised to reflect the corrections in the amortization period, expected life assumptions and volatilities used to determine stock-based compensation expense. This correction impacts the pro forma net income and pro forma net income per share previously disclosed in the footnotes to the consolidated financial statements for the six months ended June 30, 2004 and 2005. As a result, the pro forma net income for the six months ended June 30, 2004 decreased by (Yen) 515,201 thousand and for the six months ended June 30, 2005 increased by (Yen) 104,189 thousand, compared to the amounts previously presented. The pro forma basic net income per share for the six months ended June 30, 2004 decreased by (Yen) 3.88 and for the six months ended June 30, 2005 increased by (Yen) 0.78, compared to the amounts previously presented.
