Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

Agreement and Plan of Merger

On June 29, 2011, ANSYS, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the Company), entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the Merger Agreement) with Power Play Merger Sub, Inc., a Delaware corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company (Merger Sub), Apache Design Solutions, Inc., a Delaware corporation (Apache) and, with respect to Sections 2.4, 2.5, 6.13 and Articles IX and X thereof only, Papachey, Inc., solely as the representative of the securityholders of Apache (the Securityholders Representative). Subject to the terms of the Merger Agreement, Merger Sub will merge with and into Apache and the separate existence of Merger Sub will cease, with Apache being the surviving corporation and a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company (the Merger). The Company will acquire Apache for a purchase price of approximately $310 million in cash (the Merger Consideration), which includes an estimated $29 million in cash on Apache's balance sheet. In addition, each Apache stock option that is outstanding, unexercised and not vested and exercisable immediately prior to the effective time of the Merger, after giving effect to any applicable acceleration in connection with the Merger, will be converted into and become an option to purchase shares of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, of the Company. The conversion ratio for such transaction is determined by a formula set forth in Section 2.2(d)(iii) of the Merger Agreement, which is filed as Exhibit 2.1 hereto.

Following the closing of the Merger, Dr. Andrew T. Yang, Chief Executive Officer of Apache, will serve as President of the surviving corporation and will also serve on the Company's executive team as Vice President and General Manager. In the event that Dr. Yang remains an employee of the Company, the surviving corporation or any of the Company's subsidiaries on each of the first, second and third anniversaries of the closing date of the Merger, the Company will pay, as part of the Merger Consideration, an amount equal to $4,000,000, to be distributed to Apache's stockholders and holders of vested options on each such anniversary. The Merger Agreement also provides for $13 million of performance equity awards, to be earned over a three fiscal year period beginning on January 1, 2012, for key members of management and employees.

The completion of the Merger is subject to various customary closing conditions, including, among other things, the expiration or termination of the applicable waiting period under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976. Additionally, the Merger Agreement contains customary representations, warranties and covenants of the Company, Merger Sub and Apache as well as indemnification obligations by Apache securityholders in the event of a breach of such representations, warranties and covenants. The Merger Agreement also includes customary termination provisions for both the Company and Apache. The foregoing description of the Merger Agreement does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the Merger Agreement, which is filed as Exhibit 2.1 hereto, and is incorporated herein by reference.

Item 8.01. Other Events.

Forward-Looking Information

Certain statements contained in this report regarding matters that are not historical facts, including statements regarding the parties' ability to consummate the Merger, the merger consideration to be paid, the consideration to be paid for contingency obligations and performance awards, the transaction value and the conversion of shares and options, are forward-looking statements (as defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995). Because such statements are subject to risks and uncertainties, actual results may differ materially from those expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. All forward-looking statements in this Form 8-K are subject to risks and uncertainties. These include the risk that the acquisition of Apache may not be consummated, the risk that the businesses of the Company and Apache may not be combined successfully or that such combination may take longer or cost more to accomplish than expected, and the risk that operating costs, customer loss and business disruption following the acquisition of Apache may be greater than expected. Additional risks include the risk of a general economic downturn in one or more of the combined company's primary geographic regions, the risk that the Company has overestimated its ability to maintain growth and profitability and control costs, uncertainties regarding the demand for the combined company's products and services in future periods, the risk that the Company has overestimated the strength of the demand among its customers for its products, risks of problems arising from customer contract cancellations, uncertainties regarding customer acceptance of new products, the risk that the combined company's operating results will be adversely affected by possible delays in developing, completing or shipping new or enhanced products, risks that enhancements to the combined company's products may not produce anticipated sales, uncertainties regarding fluctuations in quarterly results, including uncertainties regarding the timing of orders from significant customers and other factors that are detailed from time to time in reports filed by the Company and Apache with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including the Annual Reports on Form 10-K, the quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, current reports on Form 8-K and other documents the Company and Apache have filed. The Company and Apache undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether changes occur as a result of new information or future events after the date they were made.
