CEO comments

We continue to execute on our focused business strategy and are tracking well towards our 2020 target.

Customers turn to new technology in order to manage growing demand for data with sustained quality and without increasing costs. This, together with fixed wireless access, represent the first business cases for 5G. We will continue to invest in securing leadership in 5G. This includes further investments in R&D, to solidify our complete 5G portfolio, and investments in field trials. We also intend to selectively capture new business opportunities, through our 5G-ready 4G portfolio, to extend our footprint as operators prepare for 5G. We provide solutions for all frequency bands for 5G, which strengthens our global competitiveness.

We have good market traction in Networks, with a sales growth of 2%, particularly in North America where all major operators are preparing for 5G. Digital Services is tracking towards a turnaround. However, while losses decreased both YoY and QoQ, we still have a lot of work to do. The top priority is to turn around performance in the segment, but we are in parallel accelerating investments to make the portfolio 5G ready and cloud native. Managed Services had a positive operating income. We have also on-boarded several new contracts in the quarter.

In segment Emerging Business and Other, we invest in strategic future growth areas such as Internet of Things (IoT). We see increasing momentum with several important customer wins with our connectivity platform in the quarter. However, sales are still low. Our media business generated a loss of SEK -0.4 b. in the quarter. We expect to close the announced divestment of Media Solutions, recently renamed MediaKind, by the end of the third quarter.

The SEK 10 b. cost reduction program, launched in Q2 2017, has been successfully completed. We reduced the total workforce by more than 2,000 in the quarter and by 20,500 in total as part of the program. These are tough but necessary actions to ensure competitiveness. Run-rate savings to date amount to more than SEK 10 b., and the effect is gradually becoming visible in the earnings, mainly through lower service delivery costs and common costs. Even though the cost reduction program is completed, our estimate for restructuring charges of SEK 5-7 b. for the full year remains, as we will continue our efficiency activities throughout the year.

Our cash position remains strong. Our work to further strengthen the balance sheet continues.

We see strengthened momentum for 5G in the quarter and it is clear that our 5G-ready portfolio is attractive and competitive in the market. We have gradually improved the cost position and will continue to have a strict cost focus in order to further increase competitiveness and efficiency.

Planning assumptions going forward

Market related

The Radio Access Network (RAN) equipment market is estimated to decline by -2% for full-year 2018 with 2% CAGR for 2017-2022. In 2018, the Chinese market is expected to decline due to reduced LTE investments, while there is positive momentum in North America.

Currency exposure

Rule of thumb: A weakening by 10% of USD to SEK would have a negative impact of approximately -5% on net sales and approximately -1 percentage point on operating margin (based on 2017 full-year currency exposure).

For historical rates, see www.ericsson.com/en/investors

Ericsson related, 2018

Net sales

Sales as reported decreased by -1 % YoY. Sales as reported in Networks increased by 2% YoY, driven by strong sales growth in North America. Digital Services sales declined by -11% YoY, mainly due to continued decline in legacy product sales and lower telecom core sales in North East Asia. Managed Services sales declined by -2% YoY, mainly as a result of customer contract reviews. Sales in Emerging Business and Other increased by 2% YoY, mainly driven by growth in iconectiv and IoT partly offset by lower sales in the media solutions business.

Sequential sales increased by 15%.

IPR licensing revenues

IPR licensing revenues declined to SEK 1.8 (2.0) b. YoY and decreased sequentially from SEK 1.9 b.

Gross margin

Gross margin improved to 34.8% (29.1%). Key drivers of the improvement were cost reductions, ramp-up of Ericsson Radio System (ERS) product platform, market mix and good progress in addressing non-strategic contracts in Managed Services. Completion in 2017 of the amortization of software release development expenses had a positive effect on gross margin YoY.

Sequentially, gross margin increased to 34.8% from 34.2%.

Operating expenses

Operating expenses increased to SEK 17.2 (15.4) b.

R&D expenses were SEK 9.8 (8.4) b. The net effect of higher amortized than capitalized R&D expenses was SEK -0.3 (0.1) b.

Each quarter, 25% of the anticipated full year variable compensation is provisioned for. In Q2 2017, SG&A were positively impacted as provisions were reversed following the weak company results.

Impairment losses on trade receivables increased to SEK -0.4 (-0.2) b. Impairment testing is made continuously using a methodology where country and customer risks are assessed.

Operating expenses increased sequentially following increased investments in Networks R&D, impacted by seasonality and currency effects. Operating expenses increased by approximately SEK -0.3 b. QoQ, due to currency effects.

Other operating income and expenses

Other operating income and expenses, which comprises several minor items, were SEK 0.0 (0.2) b. Other operating income and expenses in Q1 2018 were SEK 0.1 b.

Consequences of technology and portfolio shifts

Due to technology and portfolio shifts, the company is reducing the capitalization of development expenses for product platforms and software releases as well as the deferral of hardware costs. As a consequence, higher amortization than capitalization of development expenses and higher recognition than deferral of hardware costs had a negative impact on operating income YoY. The amounts related to capitalized software releases were fully amortized in 2017.

Certain profits realized in foreign jurisdictions and adjustments for taxes related to prior periods also impacted taxes negatively.

Net income (loss) and EPS

The losses in net income and the negative EPS diluted increased both YoY and QoQ, following increased taxes and negative financial net, partly offset by improved operating income.

Strategy execution

As presented at the 2017 Capital Markets Day, the target for Networks is to improve the operating margin to 15%-17% by 2020. Three important activities for profitability improvements are to

- invest in R&D to safeguard a leading portfolio
- fully transition the radio unit deliveries to Ericsson Radio System (ERS) for increased competitiveness
- continue to make savings in service delivery and common costs.

The ERS, which was introduced to the market in 2015, has proven to be competitive as well as creating a strong market position. For the first half of 2018, ERS accounted for 84% of total radio unit deliveries. The plan is to have fully transitioned the radio unit deliveries to ERS by the end of 2018.

In the quarter, a divestment of a Spanish fiber service operations, with approximately 600 service engineers, was completed.

Net sales

Sales as reported declined by -11% YoY. Legacy product sales continued to decline in the quarter. New product sales declined YoY, mainly due to lower telecom core sales in North East Asia as a consequence of a contract delay. The demand for our 5G-ready and cloud-native products remains strong with several signed contracts in the quarter.

Sales increased by 22% QoQ driven by software and services, following a seasonally weaker Q1, and by increased sales in large transformation projects.

Cost of Sales	0.0	-0.3	0.0
R&D expenses	-0.4	0.1	-0.4
Total impact	-0.4	-0.2	-0.4

Strategy execution

As presented at the Capital Markets Day 2017, the target is to turn around Digital Services into low single-digit operating margin by 2020. Cost reduction activities were intensified in the quarter across the areas of service delivery, selling and administrative expenses and R&D. These activities will continue, aiming for simplicity and efficiency. While new ways of working are improving R&D efficiency, at the same time investments continue in a portfolio of 5G-ready and cloud-native products in order to defend current market position and prepare Digital Services for future growth.

A key activity for the turnaround is to manage and complete 34 identified critical multi-year customer contracts and to either exit or complete 11 identified non-strategic contracts. The plan is to complete or exit approximately 50% of the 45 contracts in 2018. 16 contracts have been addressed at the end of Q2 2018.

The ongoing digitalization drives opportunities for operators to reduce costs and be more agile by; automating operations, digitally serving and engaging with customers and building programmable core networks. Consequently, operators increasingly invest in the areas where Digital Services provide solutions. Rolling 12 months, however, sales of the new portfolio declined by -14%, mainly due to lower telecom core sales as a consequence of a contract delay in North East Asia. It is not unusual that such sales vary between quarters.

As presented at the 2017 Capital Markets Day, the ambition for Managed Services is to improve the operating margin to 4%-6% in 2020. Strategy execution

As outlined at the Capital Markets Day in 2017, the target for segment Emerging Business and Other, including iconectiv, is a break-even result by 2020.

Selective investments will continue in Emerging Business to build a position and grow sales in new areas. Main investments are on IoT, UDN (Unified Delivery Network) and Emodo (mobile advertising and data monetization platform) business. Parts of the portfolio are still in an early phase, with focus on generating sales and scale the business, and do not yet cover the required investments, hence resulting in a negative bottom-line. The acquisition of Vidscale, a subcontractor to the Ericsson UDN business, was completed in the quarter and will lower the operational cost for the business.

For the media solutions business, Ericsson is partnering with One Equity Partners (OEP) and retaining a 49% ownership stake. This allows Ericsson to capture the upside of the business while at the same time taking an active part in the expected consolidation of the industry. Activities are accelerated to complete the transaction as planned during Q3 2018. Additional expenses related to the divestment of the media solutions business is estimated to be SEK -0.3 b. in Q3.

For Red Bee Media, the target is to achieve a sustainable profitable business, by continuing to develop and manage the business as an independent and focused media services entity within Ericsson. Operations and services propositions will be further developed, in line with the Red Bee Media tactical and transformational strategic execution plans.

POST-CLOSING EVENTSEricsson to divest its field services business in Sweden to Transtema Group

On July 11, 2018, Ericsson announced that it has signed an agreement with the Swedish company Transtema Group AB to divest Ericsson Local Services AB (LSS), a subsidiary of Ericsson supplying field service operations and maintenance of fixed and mobile networks in Sweden. This divestment is in line with Ericsson's business strategy. The transaction is expected to close in the third quarter of 2018 and is subject to customary closing conditions, including regulatory approvals.

DISCLOSURE PURSUANT TO SECTION 219 OF THE IRAN THREAT REDUCTION AND SYRIA HUMAN RIGHTS ACT OF 2012 (ITRA)

During the second quarter of 2018, Ericsson made sales of communications infrastructure related products and services in Iran to Mobile Communication Company of Iran and MTN Irancell, which generated gross revenues (reported as net sales) of approximately SEK 7 million. Ericsson does not normally allocate quarterly net profit (reported as net income) on a country-by-country or activity-by-activity basis, other than as set forth in Ericsson's consolidated financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS as issued by the IASB. However, Ericsson has estimated that its operating income (income before taxes and financial net) from such sales, after internal cost allocation, during the second quarter of 2018 would be substantially lower than such gross revenues. Ericsson continuously monitors the international developments as they relate to Iran and its government. While it is under the current circumstances very difficult to comment on possible future engagements, Ericsson always strives to honor its engagements with existing customers in compliance with applicable export controls, sanctions and other laws, rules and regulations

Risk factors

Ericsson's operational and financial risk factors and uncertainties are described in our Annual Report 2017. Risk factors and uncertainties in focus short term for the Parent Company and the Ericsson Group include, but are not limited to:

Potential negative effects on operators' willingness to invest in network development due to uncertainty in the financial markets and a weak economic business environment, or reduced consumer telecom spending, or increased pressure on Ericsson to provide financing, or delayed auctions of spectrum

Intense competition from existing competitors as well as new entrants, including IT companies entering the telecommunications market, which could have a material adverse effect on the results

Uncertainty regarding the financial stability of suppliers, for example due to lack of financing

Effects on gross margins and/or working capital of the business mix in the Networks segment between capacity sales and new coverage build-outs

Effects on gross margins of the business mix including new network build-outs and new managed services or digital transformation deals with initial transition costs

Effects of the ongoing industry consolidation among our customers as well as between our largest competitors, e.g. with postponed investments and intensified price competition as a consequence

New and ongoing partnerships which may not be successful and expose us to future costs

Changes in foreign exchange rates, in particular USD

Political unrest and uncertainty in certain markets, as well as escalating trade disputes and sanctions
Effects on production and sales from restrictions with respect to timely and adequate supply of materials, components and production capacity and other vital services on competitive terms

No guarantees that strategy execution, specific restructuring or cost-savings initiatives, profitability restoring efforts and/or organizational changes will be sufficient, successful or executed in time to deliver any improvements in earnings

Cybersecurity incidents, which may have a material negative impact

Rapidly changing technologies and the ways these are brought to the market, which could be disruptive to the business

Ericsson is subject to risks associated with the development and implementation of new solutions or technologies under existing customer contracts. The company may not be successful or incur delays in developing or implementing such solutions or technologies, which could result in damage claims and loss of customers which may have an adverse impact on liquidity and results of operations.

Ericsson stringently monitors the compliance with all relevant trade regulations and trade embargoes applicable to dealings with customers operating in countries where there are trade restrictions or trade restrictions are discussed. Ericsson operates globally in accordance with Group policies and directives for business ethics and conduct and has a dedicated anti-corruption program. However, in some of the countries where the company operates, corruption risks can be high and compliance failure could have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition and brand.

Accounting policies

The group

This interim report is prepared in accordance with IAS 34. The term IFRS used in this document refers to the application of IAS and IFRS as well as interpretations of these standards as issued by IASB's Standards Interpretation Committee (SIC) and IFRS Interpretations Committee (IFRIC). The accounting policies adopted are consistent with those of the annual report for the year ended December 31, 2017 and should be read in conjunction with that annual report, with exception for the accounting policies described below.

New standards as from January 1, 2018

Two new IFRS standards are effective as from January 1, 2018, IFRS 9 Financial instruments and IFRS 15 Revenue from Customer Contracts.

Presentation in the financial statements

For IFRS 15 the Company has adopted the full retrospective method for transition, which mean that prior year comparatives have been restated and equity has been adjusted at the initial application date (January 1, 2016). The Company has applied IFRS 9 retrospectively on the required effective date, January 1, 2018. The 2018 opening balances have been adjusted, but the previous periods have not been restated.

Based on the new requirements under IFRS 15, contract assets and contract liabilities have been added as new lines in the consolidated balance sheet and statement of cash flow. Previously, contract assets were reported as trade receivables and contract liabilities were reported as deferred revenue and as advances from customers within other current liabilities. Due to IFRS 9, impairment losses on trade receivables are reported on a separate line in the consolidated income statement. Previously, these losses have been reported as Selling and administrative expenses. In the statement of comprehensive income, a new line has been added for revaluation of borrowings due to changes in credit risk. A new line has been added to the consolidated statement of equity showing the adjustment to the opening balance.

The prior periods financial statements and key ratios presented in this quarterly report have been restated to reflect adoption of these new standards.

Accounting policy IFRS 9 Financial instruments

Financial assets

The Company classifies its financial assets in the following categories: at amortized cost, at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI), and at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL). The classification depends on the characteristics of the asset and the business model in which it is held.

Financial assets at amortized cost

Financial assets are classified as amortized cost if the contractual terms give rise to payments that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding and the financial asset is held in a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows. These assets are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, minus impairment allowances.

Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI)

Assets are classified as FVOCI if the contractual terms give rise to payments that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding and the financial asset is held in a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets. These assets are subsequently measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognized in other comprehensive income (OCI), except for effective interest, impairment gains and losses and foreign exchange gains and losses recognized in the income statement. Upon derecognition, the cumulative gain or loss in OCI is reclassified to the income statement.

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL)

All financial assets that are not classified as either amortized cost or FVOCI are classified as FVTPL. A financial asset is classified as held for trading if it is acquired principally for the purpose of selling in the near term. Derivatives are classified as held for trading, unless they are designated as hedging instruments for the purpose of hedge accounting. Assets held for trading are classified as current assets. Debt instruments classified as FVTPL, but not held for trading, are classified on the balance sheet based on their maturity date (i.e. those with a maturity longer than one year are classified as non-current). Investments in shares and participations are classified as FVTPL and classified as non-current financial assets.

Gains or losses arising from changes in the fair values of the Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss category (excluding derivatives and customer financing) are presented in the income statement within Financial income in the period in which they arise. Gains and losses on derivatives are presented in the income statement either as Cost of sales, Other operating income, Financial income or Financial expense, depending on the intent with the transaction. Gains and losses on customer financing are presented in the income statement as Selling expenses.

Impairment in relation to financial assets

At each balance sheet date, financial assets classified as either amortized cost or FVOCI and contract assets are assessed for impairment based on Expected Credit Losses (ECL). Allowances for trade receivables and contract assets are always equal to lifetime ECL. The loss is recognized in the income statement. When there is no reasonable expectation of collection, the asset is written off.

Borrowings

Borrowings by the Parent Company are designated FVTPL because they are managed and evaluated on a fair value basis. Changes in fair value are recognized in the income statement, except for changes in fair value due to change in credit risk which are recognized in Other comprehensive income.

Summary of changes to classification of financial assets and financial liabilities

Type of asset	IAS 39 classification	IFRS 9 classification	Reason for IFRS 9 classification
Cash equivalents, interest-bearing securities, and derivatives (held for trading)	FVTPL	FVTPL	Held for trading portfolios are classified as FVTPL (no change).
Cash equivalents (not held for trading)	Loans and receivables	Amortized cost	These assets are held to collect contractual cash flows.
Interest-bearing securities (not held for trading)	Available-for-sale	FVTPL	These assets are not held for trading but are managed and evaluated on a fair value basis.
Trade receivables	Loans and receivables	FVOCI	Trade receivables are managed in a business model whose objective is achieved through both collection of contractual cash flows and selling of assets.
Customer financing	Loans and receivables	FVTPL	Customer finance assets are managed in a business model with the objective to realize cash flows through the sale of assets.
Investments in shares and participations (equity instruments)	Available-for-sale	FVTPL	This is an accounting policy choice under IFRS 9.
Borrowings by parent company	Amortized cost	Designated FVTPL	These borrowings are managed and evaluated on a fair value basis.

Fair value hedging and fair value hedge accounting

Fair value hedge accounting is no longer applied as of January 1, 2018.

Financial guarantees

Financial guarantee contracts are initially recognized at fair value (i.e., usually the fee received). Subsequently, these contracts are measured at the higher of:

The expected credit losses.

The recognized contractual fee less cumulative amortization when amortized over the guarantee period, using the straight-line-method.

Accounting policy IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers

IFRS 15, Revenue from Contracts with Customers establishes a new principle-based model of recognizing revenue from customer contracts. It introduces a five-step model that requires revenue to be recognized when control over goods and services are transferred to the customer.

The following paragraphs describes the types of contracts, when performance obligations are satisfied, and the timing of revenue recognition. They also describe the normal payment terms associated with such contracts and the resulting impact on the balance sheet over the duration of the contracts. The vast majority of Ericsson's business is for the sale of standard products and services.

Standard products and services

Products and services are classified as standard solutions if they do not require significant installation and integration services to be delivered. Installation and integration services are generally completed within a short period of time, from the delivery of the related products. These products and services are viewed as separate distinct performance obligations. This type of customer contract is usually signed as a frame agreement and the customer issues individual purchase orders to commit to purchases of products and services over the duration of the agreement.

Revenue for standard products shall be recognized when control over the equipment is transferred to the customer at a point in time. This assessment shall be viewed from a customer's perspective considering indicators such as transfer of titles and risks, customer acceptance, physical possession, and billing rights. For hardware sales, transfer of control is usually deemed to occur when the equipment arrives at the customer site and for software sales, when the licenses are made available to the customer. Contractual terms may vary, therefore judgment will be applied when assessing the indicators of transfer of control. Revenue for installation and integration services is recognized upon completion of the service.

Transaction prices under these contracts are mostly billed upon delivery of the hardware or software, and completion of installation services, although a proportion may be billed upon formal acceptance of the related installation services. This will result in a contract asset for the proportion of the transaction price that is not yet billed.

Revenue for recurring services such as customer support and managed services is recognized as the services are delivered, generally pro-rata over time. Transaction prices under these contracts are billed over time, often on a quarterly basis. Contract liabilities or receivables may arise depending on whether the quarterly billing is in advance or in arrears.

Contract for standard products and services applies to business in all segments.

Customized solution

Some products and services are sold together as part of a customized solution to the customer. This type of contract requires significant installation and integration services to be delivered within the solution, normally over a period of more than 1 year. These products and services are viewed together as a combined performance obligation. This type of contract is usually sold as a firm contract in which the scope of the solution and obligations of both parties are clearly defined for the duration of the contract.

Revenue for the combined performance obligation shall be recognized over time if progress of completion can be reliably measured and enforceable right to payment exists over the duration of the contract. The progress of completion is estimated by reference to the output delivered such as achievement of contract milestones and customer acceptance. This method is considered appropriate as it reflects the nature of the customized solution and how integration service is delivered in these projects. Formal acceptance term is considered a key indicator of transfer of control for a customized solution and shall therefore be obtained prior to recognizing revenue. If the criteria above are not met, then all revenue shall be recognized upon the completion of the customized solution, when final acceptance is provided by the customer.

Transaction price under these contracts are represented by progress payments or billing milestones as defined in the contracts. In most cases, revenue recognized is limited to the progress payments or unconditional billing milestones over the duration of the contract, therefore no contract asset or contract liability arises on these contracts. In some contracts, revenue may be recognized in advance of billing milestones if enforceable payment rights exist at all times over the contract duration. This will result in a contract asset balance until billing milestones are reached.

Contract for customized solution applies to the Business Support Systems (BSS) business within the segment Digital Services and the Media Solutions business within the segment Emerging Business and Other.

Intellectual Property Rights (IPR)

This type of contract relates to the patent and licensing business. The Company has assessed that the nature of its IPR contracts is such that they provide customers a license with the right to access Ericsson intellectual properties over time, therefore revenue shall be recognized over the duration of the contract. Royalty revenue based on sales or usage is recognized when the sales and usage occurs.

The transaction price on these contracts is usually structured as a royalty fee based on sales or usage over the period, measured on a quarterly basis. This results in a receivable balance if the billing is performed the following quarter after measurement. Some contracts include lump sum amounts, payable either up front at commencement or on an annual basis. This results in a contract liability balance if payment is in advance of revenue, as revenue is recognized over time.

As described in Note C3 Segment Information of the Annual Report 2017, revenue from IPR licensing contracts are allocated to the segments Networks and Digital Services.
