- We added 10.1 million subscribers in the fourth quarter, making it our best quarter ever, with Colombia, Brazil and Ecuador showing strong performances with respect to the year-earlier quarter.
  - Through 2008 we gained 29.3 million subscribers, 2.3% more than a year before. We ended the year with 182.7 million wireless subscribers and 3.8 million fixed lines, for a total of 186.6 million lines.
  - In Brazil we obtained 3 million subs in the quarter and in each of Mexico and Colombia 2 million. Tracfone, in the U.S. gained 743 thousand clients whereas Argentina, Peru, Ecuador and the Caribbean each registered approximately half a million net additions in the period.
  - In annual terms, our fourth quarter revenues were up 11.6% to 94.4 billion pesos, with service revenues rising 14.7% on the back of strong subscriber and data revenue growth. At 37.0% year-on-year, data-revenue growth more than doubled that of service revenues. In 2008 revenues totaled 346 billion pesos, having increased 13.6% from the year before.
  - Fourth quarter EBITDA was up 7.3% year-on-year to 34.9 billion pesos, with the margin declining to 37.0% from 38.5% the previous year, mostly on account of strong subscriber growth. EBITDA rose 11.8% in 2008 to 138 billion pesos.
  - We obtained an operating profit of 23.6 billion pesos in the quarter to finish the year with 96.7 billion pesos, 15.2% more than the previous year.
  - Our net income stood at 16.3 billion pesos in the quarter and 60.1 billion pesos in the year as a whole. The quarter's net income represented 49 peso cents per share or 74 dollar cents per ADR.
  - Our capital expenditures topped 68 billion pesos in 2008 whereas our distributions to shareholders (via both share buybacks and dividends) reached nearly 52 billion pesos, for a combined total of 120 billion pesos. Except for 11.5 billion pesos that we financed in the market, the rest of the above-mentioned outlays was covered by our cash flow.
  - At the end of the year our net debt stood at 121.5 billion pesos equivalent, which represented 0.88 times EBITDA (last twelve months). Our cash position represented approximately 85% of our short term debt at the time.

Relevant Events

In November and December we closed on three new financing facilities where the funding is provided or guaranteed by several Export Credit Agencies. In all, these facilities amount to 1.8 billion dollars. For the most part these facilities have not been drawn on. They will allow América Móvil to finance substantially all of its imports of infrastructure equipment in the coming year.

On November 14 the Mexican Antitrust Commission (Comisión Federal de Competencia) issued its preliminary findings according to which the Commission deems Telcel to be dominant in the end-user segment of the wireless market. These findings are being disputed by Telcel.

Our operations in the Caribbean added 1.3 million subscribers in 2008, 554 thousand of them in the last quarter. The latter figure doubles that of a year earlier.

In the U.S. our fourth quarter net subscriber additions, 743 thousand, were up 4.6% year-on-year, bringing to 1.7 million our net gains for 2008. At the end of December Tracfone had 11.2 million subscribers, 17.6% more than a year before.

América Móvil

Buoyed by strong subscriber and data revenue growth, América Móvil's fourth quarter service revenues climbed nearly 15% year-on-year helping revenues reach 94.4 billion pesos, an 11.6% expansion relative to the year-earlier quarter. The appreciation of various currencies vs. the Mexican peso had a bearing on the sequential increase in revenues.

Overall data revenues for América Móvil climbed 37.0% in the fourth quarter relative to the same period of the prior year, more than twice as fast as service revenues, with data now accounting for 15% of service revenues. In just a year since we launched 3G services in Brazil, Argentina and Chile, data revenues in those countries grew by 70%, 41% and 26%, respectively, whereas in Colombia and Peru, where 3G services were introduced only in the first quarter of 2008, value-added revenues were up 49% and 54% year-on-year.

The year's revenues added up to 345.7 billion pesos, surpassing those obtained in 2007 by 13.6%, on the back of service revenues that rose 14.7%, almost twice as much as did equipment revenues.

EBITDA came in at 34.9 billion pesos in the quarter, bringing to 138.4 billion pesos the figure for the year. They represented annual increases of 7.3% and 11.8%, respectively. The EBITDA margin in the fourth quarter, 37.0% came down somewhat from a year before partly on account of the very fast expansion of the subscriber base in the period, as gross adds surpassed by 14.1% those of the previous year.

Our operating profits in the fourth quarter, 23.6 billion pesos, increased more rapidly (11.4%) than our EBITDA, reflecting the slower growth of our depreciation and amortization charges. For the year as a whole, our operating profit stood at 96.7 billion pesos, 15.2% higher than a year before.

Financing costs reached 7.2 billion pesos in the quarter reflecting the increase in our net debt position (38.5% year-on-year), the jump in short-term peso-based interest rates and the foreign exchange losses stemming mostly from the impact of the devaluation of the Mexican peso vis-à-vis the U.S. dollar on our un-hedged dollar debt. In September the latter represented just under 20% of our net debt, which was only somewhat higher than the share of our revenues that is dollar-based (15% in the fourth quarter).

Under current and deferred taxes we are including 2.5 billion pesos in taxes paid in Mexico in connection with distributions made to shareholders (through both share-buybacks and dividend payments) which are susceptible of being credited against income taxes in the future. We are also including a deferred tax credit in the amount of 4.4 billion pesos resulting from the recognition in Brazil in accordance to accounting standards of the benefits associated with certain carry-forward tax losses.

We obtained a net profit of 16.3 billion pesos in the quarter and 60.1 billion pesos in the year. The quarter's net profit was equivalent to 49 peso cents per share, or 74 dollar cents per ADR.

Our net debt increased in 2008 to 121.5 billion pesos from 92.7 billion pesos at the close of 2007. The increase reflects both the net borrowings of the company in the period (21.1 billion pesos) and the impact of the depreciation of the Mexican peso on the dollar-based debt of the company (17.3 billion pesos). The latter figure results from our gross dollar debt and does not reflect the benefits accrued from our currency hedges. One such benefit was the receipt of 5.9 billion pesos obtained from our rolling position of forward dollar purchases. At the end of 2008 our net debt represented 0.88 times EBITDA (last twelve months).

We feel comfortable with our liquidity position. On the one hand we recently obtained committed lines of credit (8 year loans) in the amount of 1.8 billion dollars that will help us fund our purchases of network equipment in 2009. On the other hand, our short-term debt can be paid off with the cash we have at hand. All of the above means that we do not need to access the financial markets or rely on our cash flow from operations in the present year to ensure the punctual payment of our debt obligations. It is important to note that a significant part of our debt, 33.4%, matures beyond 2015, with only 5.7% of it coming due in 2010, a small fraction of our expected cash flow in that year.

Capital expenditures totaled 68.2 billion pesos in 2008, including 13.9 billion that were directed to the acquisition of spectrum, licenses and concessions (Brazil, Panama and Ecuador). They were higher than we budgeted initially since we decided to bring forth in the second half of the year part of the investments that we intended to make in 2009 to expand further our data and voice capacity. These investments have strengthened our competitive position.

Our capital expenditures the largest we have undertaken so far were wholly financed by our cash flow from operations, which also allowed us to cover the majority of the 51.9 billion pesos in distributions made to shareholders through share buybacks and dividends.

Mexico

Our Mexican operations gained 2.0 million subscribers in the fourth quarter to finish the year with 6.4 million net additions, slightly less than a year before. At the end of 2008 we had 56.4 million subscribers in Mexico, 12.7% more than in December 2007.

Fourth quarter revenues amounted to 35.4 billion pesos, bringing to 135.3 billion pesos the total for the year, which represents an 8.8% increase in annual terms. Equipment revenues totaled 7.2 billion pesos in the quarter, slightly less (1.9%) than a year before.

Service revenues reached 28.1 billion pesos in the fourth quarter, 6.3% more than in the same period of 2007, with MOUs rising 4.2% in the period to 172 the highest in Latam and average voice revenues per minute falling by 12.3% to 82 peso cents (equivalent to 6 dollar cents). Data ARPUs rose 3.1%, partially offsetting the 8.5% reduction in voice ARPUs brought about by the decline in the price per minute of voice. Full-year service revenues were up 8.6% year-on-year, to 110.8 billion pesos.

In 2008 the average price per minute of voice came down by 12.3% in nominal peso terms and by 17.4% after discounting Mexican inflation. (In dollar terms it fell by 28.1% in the period.) They stand today amongst the most competitive in the world, at 5.7 dollar cents per minute.

Fourth quarter EBITDA came in at 18.1 billion pesos and the total for the year at 70.9 billion pesos. They were up 3.9% and 7.0%, respectively year-on-year. The EBITDA margin, 51.2%, was similar to that observed a year before.

Brazil

2008 was characterized by strong subscriber growth in Brazil with Claro leading the way. We gained 3.1 million clients in the fourth quarter, 36.3% more than in 2007, and 8.5 million in the year which accounted for 29% of Brazil's subscriber additions. Our subscriber base topped 38.7 million clients at the end of December after rising 28.1% throughout the year.

Fourth quarter revenues were up 7.8% in annual terms to 3.1 billion. Service revenues grew faster, 14.0%, powered by data revenues that expanded 69.6% in the period of reference. 2008 revenues, 11.5 billion reais, surpassed the previous year's by 15.4%.

The trend towards lower prices that began in Brazil in 2007 as we introduced 3G services continued last year, with the average price per minute of voice declining 25.8% in the fourth quarter compared to the prior year. Although MOUs rose 15.2% in the period, they could not fully compensate the reduction in prices, bringing about an 11.2% fall in ARPUs. This reduction reflects the lagged relationship between traffic and subscriber growth, which becomes more apparent when subscriber growth accelerates. On the other hand, data ARPU posted a 30.0% annual increase.

At 613 million reais, fourth quarter EBITDA declined 9.3% compared to a year earlier as a result of rapid subscriber growth and the subscriber acquisition costs that it entails. The EBITDA margin for the period was 19.8%, 3.8 percentage points lower than in the fourth quarter of 2007. The reduction was wholly explained by greater subscriber acquisition costs, which actually declined slightly on a per-gross-add basis. The EBITDA for the year increased 8.9% from a year earlier to 2.7 billion reais, with the EBITDA margin declining slightly to 23.6% because of the faster pace of subscriber growth.

We ended December with just over three million subscribers in Chile, 12.3% more than a year before and 7.7% above the previous quarter. We added 330 thousand clients in the year, most of them 214 thousand in the fourth quarter. The net additions nearly doubled those obtained in the same quarter of 2007.

The quarter's revenues increased 13.5% over the year-earlier quarter to 75.3 billion Chilean pesos. The average price per minute of voice was down 10.0% sequentially and 11.5% as compared to last year. In both cases the traffic response more than compensated the price declines allowing us to improve blended ARPUs, which were also boosted by the growth of data revenues (26.1% year-on-year). We obtained 263.5 billion Chilean pesos in revenues during 2008, 1.3% more than a year before.

In the last quarter we obtained 1.5 billion Chilean pesos of EBITDA or 2.1% of revenues, which brought to 8.3 billion Chilean pesos the total for the year.

Colombia

Our Colombian operations added a total of two million subscribers in the fourth quarter, which brought to 5.1 million the total for the year. On an annual basis, net subscriber additions were up 87.2% in the quarter and 79.7% in 2008. Our subscriber base expanded 22.6% in the year, to reach 27.4 million clients.

In the fourth quarter our revenues totaled 1.5 trillion Colombian pesos. They exceeded by 6.5% those of the year-earlier quarter, with service revenues increasing 7.5% . The average price per minute of voice declined 30.3% year-on-year pushing MOUs up 25.8% . Although significant, the increase in MOUs was not enough to avert a reduction in voice ARPUs. On the data side we continue to see good improvement with revenues coming from value added services increasing 48.7% relative to the same quarter of last year. 2008 revenues totaled 5.8 trillion Colombian pesos, 5.3% more than in 2007; service revenue growth was somewhat higher (6.8%) .

At 660 billion Colombian pesos, fourth quarter EBITDA was 4.2% lower than a year before, to some extent because of faster subscriber growth but also on account of greater network maintenance costs associated with the 3G rollout. In 2008 we obtained 2.8 trillion Colombian pesos in EBITDA, an amount equivalent to 48.2% of revenues. EBITDA for the year was up 4.0% relative to 2007 and the margin was somewhat lower.

Fourth quarter EBITDA amounted to 134 million dollars, 4.9% more than in the precedent quarter and 48.1% greater than a year earlier. In spite of swift subscriber growth, the EBITDA margin climbed 6.1 percentage points year-on-year to 45.1% . Full year EBITDA of 484 million dollars surpassed the 2007 figure by 34.3% . It was equivalent to 45.4% of revenues, 4.1 percentage points higher than the year before.
