Publicly-held Company

NOTICE TO SHAREHOLDERS

GAFISA S.A. (BOVESPA: GFSA3; OTC: GFASY) (“Gafisa” or “Company”) informs its shareholders that the Board of Directors in a meeting held on April 15, 2019, approved the Company’s capital stock increase.

In accordance with Article 30, item XXII of the CVM Instruction No. 480 and guidelines provided in the Official Circular Letter/CVM/SEP/Nº 03/2019, released on February 28, 2019, the Company’s Management publicly informs that the Company’s capital stock increase was deliberated at the Board of Directors’ Meeting held on April 15, 2019, as follows:

1. Reasons for the Capital Increase and Allocation of Funds.

The Capital Increase aims at raising funds which shall be earmarked to cope with the Strategic Plan to be elaborated, as deliberated at the Company’s Extraordinary Shareholders’ Meeting of April 15, 2019, which shall confer to Gafisa the deserved outstanding position in the Brazilian real estate sector, wherein the Company was always a benchmark.

It also aims at meeting the liquidity demand to deal with short and medium term objective challenges to optimize Gafisa’s activities, so that to reinforce its capital structure and improve its net debt/shareholders’ equity ratio.

Referred Capital Increase will not have relevant legal/corporate consequences since it ensures preemptive rights to the Company’s shareholders, pursuant to provisions of Article 171 of the Brazilian Corporation Law.

2. Number of Shares to Be Issued and Guaranteed Rights.

The Capital Increase will occur by means of the issue, for the private subscription of twenty-six million, two hundred, seventy-three thousand, nine hundred and sixty-two (26,273,962) non-par, registered, book-entry shares.

Shares to be issued will confer to its holders the same full rights, advantages and restrictions conferred by other common shares issued by the Company, as set forth in its Bylaws, inclusive as to receipt of dividends and/or interest on equity to be declared by the Company from the date of their issue.

3. Issue Price per Share.

The issue base price shall be six Reais and two centavos (R$6.02) per share, defined based on Article 170, Paragraph 1, items I and III, of Law No. 6.404/76, applying a scheduled bonus: (i) fifteen percent (15%) applied over the issue base price in the exercise of preemptive right, at a price of five Reais and twelve centavos (R$5.12) per common share (ON), and (ii) an additional three percent (3%) in the amount of four Reais and ninety-six centavos (R$4.96) per common share, in unsold shares subscription.

That is to say, for preemptive right underwriters, the bonus achieved in the exercise of unsold shares amounts to the maximum percentage of seventeen integers and fifty-five hundredths percent (17.55%).

To sum up, the bonus starts from fifteen percent (15%), to exercise the preemptive right in share subscription, and reaches seventeen integers and fifty-five hundredths percent (17.55%) in unsold shares subscription.

3.1. Criterion and justifications for issue price calculation

The Company's Management understands that, among the price calculation criteria, those which most appropriately reflect the Company's share price, i.e., those representing the value closest to the market reality, are the prospect of future profitability and share quote on the stock exchange, as they take into account: (i) the sum of net present value of units sold, units launched and unsold and net present value of debt and other assets; and the net present value of new launches, future, general and administrative expenses and landbank acquisitions over the years; and (ii) to a lesser extent in the composition of increase pricing criteria, due to a high stock volatility, the share quote on the stock exchange with discount in view of market conditions.

This methodology of the prospect of future profitability has a greater assertiveness during periods of high cash pressure and restricted financing capacity. On the other hand, although it represents a smaller amount of composition of the increase pricing cumulative criterion, the share quote on the stock exchange works as a natural reference of a realistic issue price capable to take into account the market conditions and continue attractive.

Thus, Management understands that solely and exclusively adopting the share quote on the stock exchange criterion, or consider it in proportions equivalent to the prospect of future profitability criterion, it would be inappropriate, due to the fact that the share excessive volatility results in an amount not representing the share's economic value.

Moreover, disregard the share quote in a company with such a tradeable index also would not be the most appropriate criterion. Hence, Management applied the price average, capturing stock volatility in the period between March 9, 2019, and April 9, 2019.

This analysis gave reasons to justify the combination of pricing criteria elements, items I and III, Paragraph 1 of Article 170 of Law No. 6.404/1976, and the prevalence of prospect of profitability, applying in this case, discount in issue price, which according to Management's opinion, it represents the most appropriate pricing of the Company's shares, without unjustified dilution of non-participating shareholders.

Thus, with an adequate level of accuracy, it is possible to align the need of generating cash of the Company, to meet the debt service and maintain the ordinary course of its operations, without compromising the obligations then assumed.

3.1.1. Reason for discount of Issue Price to the Market Price.

Considering the need of funding by the Company, the discount, applied in view of market conditions, as authorized by Article 170, Paragraph 1, item III, of Law No. 6.404/76, aims at stimulating the Company's shareholders adhesion and, at the same time, obtaining from certain investors a guarantee to subscribe part of the Capital Increase.

In this regard, a discount was defined at seventeen integers and fifty-five hundredths percent (17.55%), with a scheduled application of fifteen percent (15%) in the exercise of the preemptive right, and applying over such percentage, three percent (3%) in unsold shares subscription.

The preliminary fifteen percent (15%) of discount aims at (i) conferring additional advantage for share underwriters in Capital Increase; (ii) bolstering the Company's capital structure to deal with short and medium term objective challenges to recover the Company's activities; and (iii) reinforcing the underwriters' commitment to take part in the Company's capitalization.

The additional discount of three percent (3%), upon the unsold share apportionment, besides reaffirming the objectives mentioned above, would have as justification to revert to the benefit of shareholders participating in the capital increase, an eventual commission for autonomous agents who would act as brokers of the Company's shares with potential investors.

The new wording of caput of Article 5 of the Company's Bylaws, reflecting the new capital stock amount and the new number of shares in which the Company's capital now shall be divided, due to the Capital Increase, shall be appropriately defined, when, once ratified the Capital Increase by the Company's Board of Directors, the final figures are known.

5. Payment Conditions.

The shares issued within the scope of the Capital Increase shall be fully paid in cash, in domestic currency, upon subscription.

6. Preemptive Right.

The Company's shareholders shall be ensured the preemptive right to subscribe new shares, pursuant to Article 171 of Law No. 6.404/76, based on the ownership interest held by shareholders at the closing of B3's trading session of April 23, 2019.

In view of the current ownership structure of the Company, each common share shall confer to its holder the right to subscribe 0.637842894 common share issued in the Capital Increase.

Since the subscription right cannot be exercised by holders of the American Depositary Shares Program (“ADSs”), Citibank N.A., in the capacity of depository institution of the Company’s ADSs Program, shall endeavor commercially reasonable efforts to sell the Preemptive Rights attributable to the holders of ADSs, distributing the proceeds obtained with the sale amongst the holders of ADSs as provided for in the ADSs Deposit Agreement.

6.1. Capital Increase Subscription by Related Parties

New shares may be subscribed by current Company’s shareholders in the exercise of their preemptive rights, according to their respective interest in the Company’s capital stock.

The Company is not aware of any firm commitment to subscribe shares to be issued in the Capital Increase, therefore, there is no obligation from any related party to subscribe to shares in the Capital Increase.

7. Potential Dilution.

Considering that the Company’s shareholders shall be ensured the preemptive right in the subscription of new shares if shareholders fully exercise their respective preemptive rights, the Capital Increase shall not cause any dilution of current shareholders.

In the event shareholders who opted for not exercising the preemptive right in the subscription of new shares, the potential dilution resulting from the Capital Increase, considering the maximum amount of Capital Increase shall be 36.99%.

7.1. Management opinion on the Capital Increase Effects

The Company’s Management believes that a potential dilution of shareholders is mitigated, in view of opinions received from specialized media on the value of its shares, as well as based on the Independent Analysis Report issued by Eleven Financial Research available in the CVM’s Net Companies system.

8. Procedures to Exercise the Preemptive Right.

The holders of the Company’s shares shall have the preemptive right in the subscription of new shares, and they may subscribe or assign their preemptive right so that third parties subscribe a number of shares proportional to the ownership interest of these shareholders in the Company.

The term to exercise the preemptive right shall be thirty (30) consecutive days as of April 24, 2019 (inclusive), i.e., until May 23, 2019 (inclusive) (“Preemptive Right Period”). The exercise, with B3, in relation to the shares held under custody, shall observe the terms and operational procedures stipulated by B3.

The Company’s shares acquired from April 24, 2019, inclusive, shall not be entitled to preemptive right by acquiring shareholder and shall be traded ex-subscription rights.

Once observed the procedures established by Itaú Unibanco S.A. (“Itaú”), the financial institution in charge of the Company’s shares bookkeeping and B3 S.A. – Brasil, Bolsa e Balcão (“B3”), the right to subscription may be exercised from the commencement of the Initial Period of Preemptive Right by shareholders, or by assignees of preemptive right for subscription, and those under custody of B3 shall exercise it through their custody agent, in compliance with the terms and operational procedures stipulated by B3, and those at Itaú by (i) signing the applicable documents in any specialized branch of Itaú, identified in item 10 below (“Specialized Branches”); (ii) submitting the documentation referred to in item 9.1.2 below; and (iii) paying the subscription price and completing the respective subscription list.

9. Share Subscription Procedure and Treatment of Unsold Shares
