Item 8.01 Other Events.

On December 31, 2013, Community Bank System, Inc. (the “Company”), the bank holding company for Community Bank, N.A., announced that it has sold its entire portfolio of bank and insurance trust preferred collateralized debt obligation (CDO) securities because of the uncertainties created by the announcement of the final rules implementing Section 619 of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, commonly referred to as the “Volcker Rule,” which was released jointly by the Federal Reserve and a number of federal regulatory agencies on December 10, 2013. The final rule requires banking entities to divest disallowed securities by July 21, 2015, unless, upon application, the Federal Reserve grants extensions to July 21, 2017.

In addition to the liquidation of the trust preferred CDOs, the Company extinguished $226.4 million of Federal Home Loan Bank term advances and sold $417.6 million of Treasury securities previously classified as “Held to Maturity.” The impact of these actions was a pre-tax loss of approximately $6.9 million, or $0.12 per share, after-tax, which will be reflected in the Company’s fourth quarter 2013 results. The $6.9 million pre-tax loss was comprised of $32.4 million of gains on the Treasury securities, $15.5 million of losses on the trust preferred CDOs, and a $23.8 million charge from the early debt extinguishment. The Company also reinvested the net cash proceeds created from these transactions of approximately $246 million, into Treasury securities with similar durations to the assets sold in order to replace the net interest income impact of the security sales and debt extinguishment.

A copy of the press release is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1 and is incorporated herein by reference.
