Magic Software Announces Chief Financial Officer

Plans To Step Down

Outgoing CFO Declares Full Faith in Business; Plans For Successful

Transition of Responsibilities

Irvine, California (February 19, 2004) - Magic Software Enterprises (Nasdaq: MGIC), a leading provider of state-of-the-art business integration and development technology, announced today that Guy Bernstein, has announced his plans to step down as Vice President of Finance and Chief Financial Officer of the Company to pursue other career opportunities.

Bernstein joined Magic Software in October 1997 and has been Vice President and CFO since December 1999. Prior to his appointment as CFO, he served in multiple roles including controller and manager of administrative services.

"While this was a difficult personal career move decision, I am pleased to be leaving Magic in good financial shape with a strong balance sheet," said Bernstein. "I have full faith in Magic's future and growth plans, and I will continue in my role as CFO to ensure a successful transition of my responsibilities to my successor."

"Guy has been very effective in his role as CFO and has helped increase Magic's visibility with the financial community," said Menachem Hasfari, chief executive officer of Magic Software. "We appreciate the contributions he has made over the past six and a half years and wish him well in his new endeavors. A successor will be announced in the near future."
