SECTION 16(a) BENEFICIAL OWNERSHIP REPORTING COMPLIANCE

Section 16(a) of the Exchange Act and rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission, or SEC, require our directors, executive officers and holders of more than 10% of our common stock to file with the SEC reports of initial ownership and reports of changes in ownership of our common stock. SEC regulations require such persons to furnish us with copies of all such filings. To our knowledge, based solely on our review of the copies of such forms we have received, our officers, directors and holders of more than 10% of our common stock filed the required Section 16(a) reports on a timely basis in fiscal 2009.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

Audit Committee

Our board of directors has determined that each member of our audit committee other than Mr. Wiggins is an independent director within the meaning of the applicable requirements of the Australian Stock Exchange, or ASX, and the SEC. Our audit committee currently consists of three directors, Dr. Hirst and Messrs. Spooner and Wiggins. Our board of directors has determined that Mr. Wiggins qualifies as an audit committee financial expert as defined under Item 407(d)(5) of Regulation S-K of the Securities Act of 1933. Mr. Wiggins assumed the role of Chief Executive Officer in August 2008 and, as a result, no longer qualifies as independent under applicable ASX guidelines. Our board of directors has determined to keep Mr. Wiggins on the audit committee for all or part of our fiscal year 2010 until a replacement audit committee financial expert that is an independent director can be found. Mr. Spooner serves as the chair of our audit committee. Both our independent auditors and management periodically meet privately with our audit committee.

Australian Stock Exchange Guidelines

As a company listed on the ASX, we are subject to certain corporate governance requirements issued by the ASX Corporate Governance Council under its Principles of Good Corporate Governance and Best Practice Recommendation, or ASX Guidelines. ASX Guidelines set out various corporate governance principles and best practice recommendations, and we are required under the listing rules of the ASX to provide a statement in our annual report or otherwise put out a release disclosing the extent to which we have followed the ASX Guidelines. In November 2008, we issued a corporate governance statement that provided that our corporate governance practices are largely consistent with ASX Guidelines.

Table of ContentsItem 11. Executive Compensation*COMPENSATION DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

This Compensation Discussion and Analysis section discusses the compensation programs and policies for our executive officers and the compensation committee's role in the design and administration of these programs and policies and in making specific compensation decisions for our executive officers, including our named executive officers, which consisted of the following persons as of June 30, 2009: Thomas G. Wiggans, our Chief Executive Officer; David J.B. Smith, our Chief Financial Officer; Michael D.A. Aldridge, our former Chief Executive Officer, who resigned in August 2008; Philip K. Moody, our former Chief Financial Officer and Vice President, Finance and Operations, who resigned in September 2008; Peter J. Welburn, our Chief Scientific Officer and Vice President, Research & Development; George W. Mahaffey, our Chief Commercial Officer, Vice President, Sales & Marketing; and Cheri A. Jones, our Vice President, Regulatory Affairs.

Objectives and Elements of our Compensation Programs and Policies

We believe that attracting and retaining highly skilled and motivated employees is critical to pursuing our mission and achieving our strategic goals for the benefit of our stockholders. We believe that our compensation policies are a key instrument in attracting, motivating and retaining these employees. The compensation committee's overall objective is to provide competitive compensation packages to our executives in order to attract and retain high-performing executive talent while promoting stockholder interests. To that end, the committee considers the company's performance over the past year in its determination of an executive's base salary and short-term incentive compensation (in the form of cash bonuses), as described more fully below.

The compensation of our executive officers is primarily comprised of base salaries, short-term incentives in the form of annual cash bonuses, long-term incentives in the form of both sign-on and annual grants of stock options, and certain severance benefits. Base salaries are based on the level of responsibilities and the experience of the individuals and form a stable part of each executive officer's compensation package. Annual cash bonuses provide incentives and rewards for our short-term performance. Stock options are based on a multiple of each executive's target annual cash bonus opportunity and provide incentives and rewards for long-term corporate performance through stock price appreciation. Severance benefits represent a relatively smaller portion of the overall package and promote job security.

Continuing from our 2008 fiscal year, during our 2009 fiscal year, the compensation committee reviewed data regarding competitive or market comparable packages for our executives consistent with our international strategy focused on the North American continent and maintaining a pay level for Australian executives that resulted in relative equality among all of our executives. The committee determined that the executive officers' total compensation should be at least equal to the median compensation for the relevant comparables for their geographic area (the U.S. or Australia), with the possibility of an increase in short-term incentives (in the form of annual cash bonuses) in an amount that would place the executive's total cash compensation at the 75th percentile of such comparable if he or she was determined to have performed above the respective target goals in their action plan in any given year. In fiscal 2009, the committee confirmed the determination from the 2008 fiscal year that total cash compensation (salary and target bonus) for U.S. executives should be at the median level of life science companies with less than 50 employees as set forth in the Radford database. For Australian-based employees, the committee continued to target the median compensation level of companies on the Mercer Australian Biotech Industry salaries and benefits survey results (which is published annually).

In fiscal 2009, there were a number of changes to our executive management team. Specifically, Michael D.A. Aldridge, who served as our Managing Director, Chief Executive Officer and a director from October 2003 through August 2008, resigned from employment with us. Mr. Aldridge was engaged to provide consulting services to us through May 15, 2009. Thomas G. Wiggans, our Chairman of the Board, replaced Mr. Aldridge as Chief Executive Officer in August 2008. Philip K. Moody served as our Chief Financial Officer, Vice President, Finance & Operations from October 2006 through September 2008, when he resigned from employment with us. Mr. Moody was engaged to provide consulting services to us through June 15, 2009. Mr. Smith, our Secretary and former Senior Director, Finance, replaced Mr. Moody as Chief Financial Officer. We paid each of Mr. Aldridge and Mr. Moody severance payments and entered into new arrangements with each of Mr. Wiggans and Mr. Smith, each as described below.

Determination of Compensation

The compensation committee is responsible for reviewing and approving the compensation arrangements for our executive officers, including the named executive officers. Our Chief Executive Officer attends meetings of the compensation committee when the committee is considering changes to compensation for the executive officers in order to present his analysis and recommendations as to performance awards with respect to the executive officers (other than himself). The committee takes his recommendation and analysis into account in making its determination. Our Chief Executive Officer is excused from our board or committee meetings during any discussions or votes relating to his personal compensation.

While our fiscal year end is June 30, the compensation committee reviews the performance and compensation of the Chief Executive Officer and our other executive officers, including the named executive officers, on a calendar-year basis towards the end of each calendar year, usually in December. Our bonus determinations are based on performance of the executive officer and the company over the last calendar year. Any adjustment made to an executive officer's compensation, as a result of this annual review, typically takes effect on January 1 of the following calendar year.

Annual Performance Reviews

Annually, usually in December, or upon a new executive officer's commencement of employment, each executive officer agrees to an action plan which sets forth, among other things, specific company performance objectives for the area of responsibility of the executive and agreed to actions for the executive officer for the following calendar year. These action plans are formed as part of our annual business planning and budgeting activities and reflect the objectives of our corporate strategy. The results and actions to be achieved vary depending on the executive officer and from year to year and have historically included operational milestones, specific budget or plan parameters, target cost outcomes, personal accountabilities to be met or performance or safety outcomes targeted, although no single result or action has been considered material to compensation decisions. The action plan may also include the method or actions required to deliver the results specified. The action plan for our Chief Executive Officer is agreed to by our Chief Executive Officer and our full board of directors. The action plan for each of our other executive officers, including the other named executive officers, is agreed to by the executive officer and our Chief Executive Officer. The compensation committee generally does not review or comment on the action plans of our named executive officers.

The action plans also incorporate a personal effectiveness review, which is completed by the compensation committee in the case of the Chief Executive Officer, and by our Chief Executive Officer in the case of the other named executive officers. The personal effectiveness review covers the level of achievement of the company performance objectives and agreed to actions for the completed calendar year, any particular achievements not previously planned or discussed, and opportunities for improvements against specific result areas or accountabilities. These personal effectiveness reviews are considered by the Chief Executive Officer in his recommendations to the compensation committee concerning the executive officers' cash bonuses and equity awards for the past calendar year and any salary increases for the upcoming calendar year, and as a result form a significant component of an executive officer's compensation arrangements. The compensation committee strongly considers the Chief Executive Officer's recommendations in making its recommendation to the full board of directors for approval.

Competitive Market Data

In addition to the annual performance reviews, in December 2007 the compensation committee began considering data from two sources in determining base salary increases and short and long-term incentive awards. The committee's objective was to review the continued validity of the compensation policies that were adopted in June 2006 based on an extensive review of executive compensation by a compensation consultant hired by us at that time, as further described below. In connection with the extensive review in June 2006, the committee determined that our executive officers' compensation should be at least equal to the median base salary and median incentive awards of the executives in the relevant markets. This practice was continued in December 2008.

Table of Contents

In December 2008, for U.S.-based employees, the committee used data from the Radford database for life science companies with less than 50 employees, and for Australian-based employees, the committee used data from the Mercer Australian Biotech Industry salaries and benefits survey results (which is published annually). We collectively refer to these sources as our Market Comparables. While the compensation committee uses the Market Comparables to generally set base salaries for our executive officers at or around the median level, in some instances based on experience of the individual, prior employment salaries or otherwise, the committee may determine that an executive officer's salary should be above or below the median level, as applicable.

Based on a review of the Market Comparables in December 2008, the compensation committee determined that the compensation policies established by the committee in June 2006 in conjunction with reports prepared by Mercer Human Resource Consulting, an independent compensation consultant retained by us, were still valid. This compensation consultant review was undertaken by the compensation committee in June 2006 in connection with the relocation of our Chief Executive Officer from Australia to the United States and our executive officer hires in the U.S. market, including our Chief Financial Officer, our Vice President, Regulatory Affairs, our former Chief Medical Officer and our Interim Chief Medical Officer. The reports prepared by the compensation consultant in 2006 included Australian and U.S. market competitive compensation data for our Chief Executive Officer (Australian and U.S. data), Chief Financial Officer (Australian and U.S. data), Chief Medical Officer (U.S. data) and Vice President, Regulatory Affairs (U.S. data). For purposes of determining the compensation levels for our U.S.-based executives, including our Chief Executive Officer (who was then being relocated to the United States), the committee considered the U.S. market data. The U.S. market data was primarily gathered from the 2005 U.S. Top Five survey, which contains data from 395 U.S.-based publicly traded biopharmaceutical companies. The data for the surveys is submitted by the companies on an anonymous basis and is grouped in categories, such as location, stage of development and industry specialization. The data that the compensation committee reviewed was limited by the consultant to pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies with annual revenues of less than $5.0 million, which essentially included companies at the same product development stage as us. We refer to these companies as our U.S. Top Five Survey Companies.

Mr. Aldridge's employment agreement with us was terminated in August 2008 when he resigned from his position with us. Mr. Moody's employment agreement with us was terminated in September 2008 when he resigned from his position with us.

Components of Compensation

Executive compensation consists of the following components: base salaries, short-term incentives in the form of annual cash bonuses, long-term incentives in the form of both sign-on and annual stock option awards, and certain severance benefits, each as more fully described below.

Base Salary

Base salaries are determined based on the executive officer's level of responsibilities and the experience of the individual. In order to attract and retain high-performing executive talent, the compensation committee believes it is important to provide base salaries that are at or about the median of the market in which we compete for the executive. Base salaries are reviewed annually (except in the case of new-hires or for promotions or other significant changes in responsibilities that happen during the fiscal year). In its annual review of base salaries, the committee assesses changes based on the scope and complexity of an executive officer's responsibilities. The committee considers the Chief Executive Officer's personal effectiveness reviews of the other named executive officers as well as the Chief Executive Officer's compensation recommendations for the other named executive officers in its determination. Previously, our Chairman provided the personal effectiveness review of the Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Aldridge, which the committee considered in determining the Chief Executive Officer's compensation. Going forward, the compensation committee will provide the personal effectiveness review of the Chief Executive Officer.

We have entered into employment agreements with all of our executive officers. These agreements establish an initial base salary, which is subject to adjustment at the discretion of our compensation committee, in some cases only upward adjustment, as further described below.

We entered into an employment agreement with Mr. Aldridge, our former Chief Executive Officer, in December 2006, in connection with his relocation to the United States, which set a minimum base salary for our Chief Executive Officer at $300,000. The compensation committee determined this amount in part based on its review of the compensation consultant's report on the U.S. market data, indicating that the $300,000 base salary amount for the Chief Executive Officer fell between the 25th percentile and 50th percentile of the companies included in the U.S. Top Five Survey Companies. In December 2007, the compensation committee increased Mr. Aldridge's base salary to $350,000 from $300,000 (a 17% increase) based on his performance and the base salaries for his level in the Radford database. Mr. Aldridge resigned from his position in August 2008, and his employment agreement with us was terminated. Mr. Aldridge was engaged as a consultant through May 2009, during which time his outstanding but unvested options continued to vest.

Mr. Wiggans replaced Mr. Aldridge as Chief Executive Officer in August 2008 pursuant to an employment agreement entered into between us and Mr. Wiggans which provides for a base salary of $350,000, which is the same salary that Mr. Aldridge received prior to his resignation. The compensation committee determined this amount based on the fact that it was consistent with the pay determined by the committee as appropriate for the Chief Executive Officer.

Mr. Moody resigned from his position as Chief Financial Officer in September 2008 and his employment agreement with us was terminated. Mr. Moody was engaged by us as a consultant through June 15, 2009, during which time his outstanding but unvested options continued to vest. Mr. Smith, our current Company Secretary and former Senior Director, Finance, replaced Mr. Moody as Chief Financial Officer in September 2008. The compensation committee reviewed and discussed Mr. Smith's qualifications and background and the Market Comparables for similar positions in similar industries, and approved a base salary of A$213,636 for Mr. Smith.

During the compensation committee's December 2008 annual compensation review, the committee approved increases in the base salaries of George Mahaffey, our Chief Commercial Officer, Vice President, Sales & Marketing, by 6.7%, to $277,500 from $260,000, Cheri Jones, our Vice President, Regulatory Affairs, by 4.5%, to $256,000 from $245,000, Peter Welburn, Ph.D., our Chief Scientific Officer, Vice President, Research and Development, and General Manager, Australia, by 10.9%, to A$244,000 from A$220,000, and David Smith, our Chief Financial Officer and Company Secretary, by 5.2% to A$224,545 from A$213,636. These increases were recommended by the Chief Executive Officer and were based on the personal effectiveness reviews of each executive and the Market Comparables and effective as of January 1, 2009.

Short Term Incentives Annual Cash Bonuses

Our annual cash bonuses reward our executive officers for our successful performance and each individual's contribution to that performance. Cash bonuses are generally determined and paid in December based on performance for that calendar year, rather than at the end of our fiscal year (which is June 30). Annual cash bonus amounts are determined at the subjective discretion of the committee at the end of the calendar year following the Chief Executive Officer's recommendation, which is based on our corporate results and the personal effectiveness reviews, as described more fully above under Determination of Compensation. The committee does not employ a formula in making its bonus determinations. Although the committee set total cash compensation (base salary and target cash bonus) in December 2007 to be at or around the median of Market Comparables, as applicable, the committee determined that our executive officers who out-perform in any given year should be eligible to receive annual cash bonuses in such amount as to place them at the 75th percentile for total cash compensation in the respective industry comparable. All of our named executive officers have total cash compensation that is at or around the median of compensation for their position in the Market Comparables.

The compensation committee set target annual bonuses for the 2008 calendar year at 30% of base salary for each member of the executive management team other than Mr. Aldridge, whose target for 2008 was 40%. The committee increased Mr. Aldridge's target annual cash bonus opportunity to 40% of his base salary in December 2007 (an increase from 30% for the prior year) based on information provided to the compensation committee in a report from Setren, Smallberg & Associates, an independent consultant, in conjunction with a review of board of director compensation (which included Mr. Aldridge, our former Chief Executive Officer and a director) undertaken at the committee's request, and a review of the Radford database. The Setren report indicated that the bonus target practice for chief executive officers in the comparator group of firms reported a midpoint bonus target of 40%. As a result, the compensation committee determined that it would be appropriate to increase Mr. Aldridge's bonus target to 40% to better align his total cash compensation with that of our competitors.

For the 2008 calendar year, Mr. Smith, Dr. Welburn, Mr. Mahaffey and Ms. Jones received bonus awards of $38,879, $44,861, $78,000 and $66,150, respectively, representing approximately 26%, 27%, 30% and 27% of their respective base salaries. Mr. Aldridge and Mr. Moody resigned prior to payment of bonus awards. In making these bonus determinations, the committee noted successful achievement relating to:

commencement of our first phase III clinical trial for PEP005 (ingenol mebutate) Gel for AK under a Special Protocol Assessment from the FDA; acquisition of Neosil, Inc. to expand our pipeline in dermatology and secure additional funding; maintaining our current Good Manufacturing Practices, or cGMP, licensed manufacturing facility through 2008; and completion of an international capital raising.

These factors were not pre-established performance targets tied to specific bonus payouts, but rather reflected our corporate results for the prior year, which the committee considered in making its bonus determinations. The committee also considered the Chief Executive Officer's recommendations which were based on his year-end personal effectiveness reviews of the executives' performance during the past year.

In fiscal 2009, we entered into employment agreements with Mr. Wiggans and Mr. Smith. The agreement for Mr. Wiggans provided for a 2008 annual cash bonus of $100,000, with a target range thereafter of $125,000 to $175,000 (which is effectively between 36% and 50% of his current base salary), to be determined by the compensation committee beginning in the 2009 calendar year and thereafter. The agreement for Mr. Smith set his target award bonus amount at 30% of base salary, which translates to a target award bonus amount of $57,204 (A$70,500).

Long-term Incentives Stock Options

Historically, we have only provided long-term incentives in the form of options to purchase shares of our common stock. These long-term incentives are designed to encourage retention of key employees and align the interest of our employees with the creation of stockholder value by creating long-term employee interest in our growth and stock price value. Our policy is to set the exercise prices of our stock option grants equal to the current fair market value on the date of grant.

Options are generally granted annually at the end of each calendar year, in connection with the executive officer's formal personal effectiveness review. The committee has sole discretion over the approval of option grants for our Chief Executive Officer. With respect to our other named executive officers, the committee recommends the amount of option grants to be made for the executive officers, and the grants are subsequently approved by the full board of directors. For the November 2008 grants to the U.S. named executive officers, the committee targeted the Black-Scholes value of annual stock option awards at two times the level of each executive officer's estimated annual cash bonus for 2008. To create parity with the option grants to the U.S. executive officers, Australian executive officer's annual stock option awards are made as follows: one times the estimated cash bonus to be paid in December 2008 to each officer, plus one times the average of the target cash bonuses of the U.S. executive officers for 2008.

In addition, options are granted in connection with the commencement of employment. In fiscal 2008, the committee undertook a review of option grants, and determined that the authority to grant new-hire options should be delegated to the Chief Executive Officer.

In some cases, the compensation committee decides to award additional options to employees, including our executive officers, on a discretionary basis above the target levels described above. In fiscal 2009, discretionary grants of 9,300 and 7,000 were made to each of Messrs. Welburn and Smith as a means of retaining these individuals for the long term success of the company.

The exercise prices of stock option grants is set to 20 times the closing price on the grant date of one CHESSE Depository Interest representing 1/20th of a share of company common stock on the Australian Securities Exchange, as reported on the website of the Australian Stock Exchange at www.asx.com.au and as converted from Australian dollars to U.S. dollars using the foreign currency exchange rate published by the Reserve Bank of Australia as of 4 p.m. AEST on the date of grant, which the compensation committee determined to be the current fair market value of company common stock on the date of grant. Subject to the optionee's continuous service, the options vest and become exercisable in 48 equal installments at the end of each month beginning with the month following the month in which the option was granted.

In addition, the employment agreement for Mr. Wiggans, entered into in August 2008, provides for the grant of a stock option to purchase 225,000 shares of our common stock under our 2007 Incentive Award Plan, or 2007 Plan, and the grant of 225,000 shares of restricted stock. The stock option grant vested 50% on June 30, 2009 and the remaining 50% vest in 12 equal monthly installments on the last day of each month from July 2009 through June 2010, subject to continued employment, provided that for the final nine monthly installments, Mr. Wiggans is only required to be serving as Chief Executive Officer or Chairman, but not both. The restricted stock grant vested 25% on June 30, 2009 and will vest 25% on June 30, 2010, if Mr. Wiggans continues in the role of Chief Executive or Chairman of the Board through that date, and the remaining 50% will vest on June 30, 2011, if Mr. Wiggans continues to serve as Chief Executive Officer through that date, or on the first day during Mr. Wiggans' employment period (August 2008 – June 2010) following a period of 20 consecutive trading days during which the volume-weighted average price per share of our common stock for each day is equal to or greater than $15.00 per share. These grants were approved by our stockholders at our 2008 annual meeting of stockholders, and the stock option grant was issued with an exercise price of $6.24.

In connection with his promotion to Chief Financial Officer, Mr. Smith received a stock option to purchase 50,000 shares of our common stock under our 2007 Plan.

Prior to the adoption of our 2007 Plan, stock option grants were made in accordance with the terms of our employee share option plan, or our prior plan. Under the 2007 Plan, options granted in connection with commencement of employment vest 25% on the first anniversary of commencement of employment and on a monthly basis for three years thereafter, rather than on a yearly basis over a period of three years with our prior plan. On-going option grants vest on a monthly basis over a period of four years from the date of grant, rather than on a yearly basis over a period of three years under our prior plan. The option term was increased from five years under our prior plan to ten years under our 2007 Plan. These changes were made to provide our option holders with more flexibility in exercising options and obtaining value, and to align our option terms with option terms granted by companies in similar industries in the U.S.

Perquisite and Other Benefits

U.S. executives receive healthcare, medical and dental coverage, life insurance coverage and access to flexible spending accounts on the same basis as the benefits provided to all U.S. employees.

Our Australian executives receive no retirement allowances other than the statutory superannuation entitlements. As required by Australian law, we have contributed 9% from the salaries of each of our Australian employees to defined contribution superannuation funds. We permit employees to choose the superannuation fund into which the contributions are paid, provided the fund is appropriately registered. Australian employees also receive an additional superannuation contribution at 1% of base salary intended to be applied to life insurance. There are also limited salary packaging options for executives in the way they receive their base salary, these typically comprise vehicle leasing and superannuation.

We agreed to assist our former Chief Executive Officer and former U.S.-based named executive officers with reasonable relocation costs and expenses in connection with opening our principal place of business in Emeryville, California. We agreed to these costs in order to entice Mr. Aldridge to relocate from Australia to the United States and to entice the other U.S.-based named executive officers to join us and move from their homes in other states in the continental United States. Mr. Aldridge's employment agreement provided that we pay certain reasonable costs of relocation expenses, including one-way business class air travel from Brisbane to San Francisco, transportation and storage of furniture, a visa application and real estate agent services. In fiscal 2007, we paid an aggregate of $52,752 for these expenses and in fiscal 2008, we paid an aggregate of $968 for the expenses. Mr. Aldridge resigned from his employment with us in August 2008.

Table of Contents

Ms. Jones' employment agreement provides that we pay the reasonable cost of economy air travel from Colorado to San Francisco, transportation and storage of furniture and up to eight weeks temporary accommodations in a furnished apartment. Ms. Jones is also paid an amount each month, commencing on the date of her transfer to the San Francisco Bay Area in June 2006 and continuing for a period of three years, to assist with her move to the San Francisco Bay Area. Under this arrangement, we have agreed to pay her as follows: $1,030 per month in the first year, $515 per month in the second year and $258 per month in the third year.

Severance Benefits

Each of our named executive officers' employment agreements provides for a severance payment if the executive officer is terminated by us without the prior notice of termination specified in the agreement. These severance payments range from one month to six months of salary, based on position. The compensation committee determined that it was in our best interests to provide severance arrangements to our executive officers in order to keep their compensation arrangements competitive with those of other companies within our industry.

In August 2008, we entered into an employment agreement with Mr. Wiggans, as Chief Executive Officer. In addition to the severance payment for termination by us without prior notice, Mr. Wiggans' employment agreement provides for a change of control bonus of $500,000. Mr. Wiggans' employment agreement also contains certain restrictive covenants, including that he will not solicit employees for a period of 18 months following termination of employment with us, and will not at any time without our prior written approval use any information that constitutes a trade secret to solicit business away from our customers or vendors. He also agreed not to serve as an employee, consultant or director of any competitor of ours during his employment with us.

Mr. Aldridge's employment agreement, entered into in December 2006, provided him with a severance payment in the case of a change of control if he is not offered a continuing position of equivalent responsibility. This agreement was entered into in consideration of agreements generally entered into with executives in our industry that maintain similar levels of responsibility to Mr. Aldridge. In August 2008, Mr. Aldridge resigned from his position with us. In connection with Mr. Aldridge's resignation, we agreed to pay him a lump sum amount of $175,000 (equal to six months base salary) and to pay COBRA premiums for him and his dependents for a period of six months following the date of termination. Mr. Aldridge agreed to remain as a consultant through May 2009 and his separation agreement with us provided that his outstanding options would continue to vest through that date. The agreement provided that Mr. Aldridge would be paid a monthly fee of $6,000 for up to 40 hours per month in consulting services, and an additional $150 per hour for any additional hours worked during this period. In connection with his separation, we agreed to pay up to $20,000 towards executive outplacement services and fees and expenses of counsel for Mr. Aldridge in connection with the negotiation of the separation agreement. Mr. Aldridge agreed to release us from all claims he may have under his employment agreement or otherwise.

Mr. Moody's employment agreement, effective as of October 2006, provided him with a severance payment in the case of a termination without cause. In September 2008, Mr. Moody resigned from his position with us. In connection with his resignation, we agreed to pay Mr. Moody a lump sum payment of $140,000 (equal to six months base salary) and COBRA premiums for Mr. Moody and his dependents for a period of six months following the date of his termination. Mr. Moody agreed to remain as a consultant through June 15, 2009, and his separation agreement with us provided that his outstanding options would continue to vest through that date. The agreement provided that Mr. Moody would be paid a monthly fee of $1,333 for up to 20 hours per month in consulting services, and an additional $66.67 per hour for any additional hours worked during this period. In connection with his separation, we agreed to pay up to $7,500 towards executive outplacement services and fees and expenses of counsel for Mr. Moody in connection with the negotiation of the separation agreement. Mr. Moody agreed to release us from all claims he may have under his employment agreement or otherwise.

A description of the material terms of these agreements can be found under Potential Payments Upon Termination or Change-in-Control.

Table of ContentsPolicy on Deductibility of Compensation

The compensation committee annually reviews and considers the deductibility of executive compensation under Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, which provides that we may not deduct certain compensation in excess of $1.0 million that is paid to certain individuals. There is an exception to the $1.0 million limitation for performance-based compensation meeting certain requirements. Under our 2007 Plan, any compensation deemed paid to an officer when he or she exercises an option with an exercise price that is equal to the fair market value of the option shares on the grant date is deemed to qualify as performance-based compensation and should not be subject to the $1.0 million deduction limitation. To maintain flexibility in compensating officers in a manner designed to promote varying corporate goals, our compensation committee has not adopted a policy requiring all compensation to be deductible.

Executive CompensationSummary Compensation Table

The following table provides information regarding the compensation awarded, paid to, or earned by each of our named executive officers for all services rendered to us for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2007, June 30, 2008 and June 30, 2009. The amounts included in the table are in U.S. dollars, and have been converted from Australian dollars at an exchange rate of A$1 for each U.S.$0.7477, which was the average exchange rate published by the Reserve Bank of Australia for the period from July 1, 2008 through June 30, 2009.

(1) The amounts shown include salary deferred under statutory superannuation entitlements for Australian employees, otherwise payable in cash during each of the two fiscal years. Compensation paid to Mr. Wiggans for his service as a director is disclosed below under the caption Director Compensation.

(2) While all other compensation listed in the table was earned for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2007, June 30, 2008 and

June 30, 2009, cash bonuses are paid on a calendar year basis and not on the basis of the June 30 fiscal year. The amounts shown are the annual cash bonuses earned for the 2006, 2007 and 2008 calendar years and paid in December 2006, 2007 and December 2008, respectively.

- (3) The amounts shown are the amounts of compensation costs recognized by us in fiscal years 2008 and 2009 related to the grants of stock options in fiscal years 2008 and 2009 and prior fiscal years, as prescribed under SFAS No. 123R. For a discussion of valuation assumptions, see Note 11, Share Based Payments, of the Notes to our Consolidated Financial Statements. These amounts include additional compensation costs recognized by us in connection with the reissuance of stock options in connection with the Reorganization (as defined below) which occurred in fiscal 2008. For fiscal 2008, the total amount of the increase in compensation costs attributable to the named executive officers (to be incurred over the life of the options) was $253,000. The chart below sets forth the additional compensation cost per person incurred in fiscal 2009 as a result of the Reorganization.

On October 16, 2007, we were formed for the purpose of reorganizing our former parent company, Peplin Limited, into the United States. In connection with this reorganization, we acquired all the outstanding ordinary shares of Peplin Limited pursuant to a Scheme of Arrangement approved by the Federal Court of Australia and by Peplin Limited's shareholders in which we issued one share of our common stock for every 20 ordinary shares of Peplin Limited that were issued and outstanding. We also cancelled each of the outstanding options to acquire ordinary shares of Peplin Limited, including those that were listed on the Australian Securities Exchange, or ASX, and issued replacement options, appropriately adjusted to reflect the reorganization, representing the right to acquire shares of our common stock. We refer to these transactions as the Reorganization.

Relocation costs represent amounts that we agreed to pay in connection with each officer's relocation to the San Francisco Bay Area pursuant to each officer's employment agreement. - (2) All options granted to purchase shares of our common stock under our 2007 Plan are made in U.S. dollars.
- (3) Our policy is to set the exercise prices of our stock option grants equal to the market price on the date of grant. Market price on the date of grant is determined by calculating the volume weighted average closing share price of our stock on the ASX for the five trading days following the date of grant.
- (4) Amounts shown are the closing prices of our stock on the ASX on the grant date.
- (5) The U.S. dollar value of the option grants shown represents the grant date fair value based on the Black-Scholes model of option valuation to determine grant date fair value, as prescribed under SFAS No. 123R. The actual value, if any, an executive may realize will depend on the excess of the stock price over the exercise price on the date the option is exercised. There is no assurance that the value realized by an executive will be at or near the value estimated by the Black-Scholes model. The following assumptions were used in the Black-Scholes model: market price of stock, $3.86 to $6.24; exercise price of option, $3.86 to $6.24; expected stock volatility, 61.18% to 66.77; risk-free interest rate, 3.48% to 3.53% (based on the 10-year treasury bond rate); expected life, 5.62 to 6.20 years; dividend yield, 0%; expected forfeiture, 12.46%. These options vest and are generally exercisable in 48 monthly tranches beginning one month after the grant date.

Employment and Consultancy Agreements

Employment Agreements. All of our named executive officers are parties to employment agreements that establish an initial base salary, which is subject to adjustment (either up or down) at the discretion of our compensation committee, except that Mr. Aldridge's employment agreement provided for only upward discretion. In addition, Mr. Wiggans' employment agreement provides that his base salary may only be decreased in connection with a decrease of the base salaries of all of our executive officers, and then only by the percentage decrease of all such other executive officers.

Each named executive officer's employment agreement sets the executive's target annual cash bonus opportunity as a percentage of his or her calendar year base salary, subject to the discretion of the compensation committee. Actual annual cash bonus amounts have historically been determined at the subjective discretion of the committee at the end of each calendar year following consideration of the executives' personal effectiveness reviews. See Compensation Discussion and Analysis Components of Compensation Short Term Incentives Annual Cash Bonuses for a discussion of the named executive officers' bonuses.

The employment agreements for each of Mr. Aldridge and Ms. Jones provide for the payment of certain relocation costs associated with the executives' relocation to the San Francisco Bay Area. See Compensation Discussion and Analysis Components of Compensation Perquisites and Other Benefits for a discussion of the relocation costs. Mr. Aldridge resigned from employment with us in August 2008.

The employment agreements also provide for certain severance payments and benefits. None of the employment agreements with our named executive officers have any specified terms and each of the named executive officers is an at-will employee, whose employment may be terminated by us at any time, for any reason or no reason, with or without cause, with written notice ranging from one to six months. See Potential Payments Upon Termination or Change-in-Control for a discussion of any payments or other benefits payable upon termination of the named executive officers' employment.

In addition, the employment agreement for Mr. Wiggans provides for the grant of options to purchase 225,000 shares of our common stock under our 2007 Plan, which options vest as follows:

50% vested on June 30, 2009; and the remaining 50% vest in 12 equal monthly installments on the last day of each month from July 2009 through June 2010, subject to continued employment, provided that for the final nine monthly installments,

Mr. Wiggans is only required to be serving as the Chief Executive Officer or Chairman, but not both.

The stock option grant was approved by our stockholders at our 2008 annual meeting of stockholders and issued that day with an exercise price of $6.24.

Mr. Wiggans' employment agreement also provides for the grant of 225,000 shares of restricted stock. These shares vest as follows:

25% vest on June 30, 2010, if Mr. Wiggans continues in the role of Chief Executive Officer or Chairman through that date; and the remaining 50% shall vest on June 30, 2011, if Mr. Wiggans continues to serve as Chief Executive Officer through that date, or on the first day during Mr. Wiggans' employment period (August 2008 - June 2010) following a period of 20 consecutive trading days during which the volume-weighted average price per share of our common stock for each day is equal to or greater than $15.00 per share.

Potential Payments Upon Termination or Change-in-Control

Employment Agreements

We have entered into employment agreements with each of our named executive officers which provide them with certain severance payments:

Thomas G. Wiggans. Pursuant to the terms of his employment agreement, we may terminate Mr. Wiggans with or without cause upon giving written notice to him specifying the effective date of the termination, which cannot be not less than thirty days or more than forty days following the date notice is given. Mr. Wiggans can also terminate his employment with us for good reason or without good reason at any time upon giving written notice to us specifying the effective date of the termination, which cannot be less than thirty days or more than forty days following the date notice is given. In the event that Mr. Wiggans terminates his employment for good reason, we will be required to make a severance payment equal to his base salary in effect immediately preceding the termination date for a period of six months following termination, and pay for continuation of COBRA premiums for a period of six months following termination.

For purposes of Mr. Wiggans' employment agreement, cause means the board of directors' reasonable determination that Mr. Wiggans has:

been convicted of or pled guilty or no contest to any felony; committed one or more acts of theft, embezzlement or misappropriation against the company; or materially breached his obligations under his respective employment agreement and the breach has not been remedied within 30 days of delivery to executive by us of a written notice specifically identifying the breach.

For purposes of Mr. Wiggans' employment agreement, good reason shall mean:

the company's material breach of the compensation and benefit obligations set forth in the executive's employment agreements;

a material, substantial, and permanent reduction in the executive's duties, responsibilities or authority at the company without the executive's prior written consent;

a material breach of executive's employment agreement by removing executive from the position of Chief Executive Officer without executive's prior written consent; or a material change in the geographic location at which Mr. Wiggans must perform services.

David J.B. Smith. Pursuant to the terms of his employment agreement, we may terminate Mr. Smith's employment with or without cause upon giving written notice to Mr. Smith specifying the effective date of the termination which cannot be not less than thirty days or more than forty days following the date notice is given. Mr. Smith can also terminate his employment with us for good reason or without good reason at any time upon giving written notice to us specifying the effective date of the termination which cannot be not less than thirty days or more than forty days following the date notice is given. In the event that we terminate Mr. Smith's employment without cause, or Mr. Smith terminates his employment for good reason, we will be required to make a severance payment equal to his base salary and superannuation contribution in effect immediately preceding the termination date for a period of six months following termination.

For purposes of Mr. Smith's employment agreement, cause means the board of directors' reasonable determination that the executive has:

been convicted of or pled guilty or no contest to any felony, or any violation of securities law of any jurisdiction;

committed one or more acts of theft, embezzlement or misappropriation against the company;

materially breached his obligations under his respective employment agreement and the breach has not been remedied within 30 days of delivery to executive by us of a written notice specifically identifying the breach;

violated the company's Code of Business Conduct and Ethics; or materially failed to perform his duties to the company or a subsidiary to a reasonably satisfactory level as determined by a majority of the members of the board of directors after there has been delivered to executive a written demand for performance by the company or subsidiary that describes the specific material deficiencies.

For purposes of Mr. Smith's employment agreement, good reason shall mean:

the company's material breach of the compensation and benefit obligations set forth in Mr. Smith's employment agreement;

a material, substantial, and permanent reduction in Mr. Smith's duties, responsibilities or authority at the company without Mr. Smith's prior written consent; or a material change in the geographic location at which Mr. Smith must perform services (other than a reassignment or relocation to the United States agreed to by Mr. Smith and the company).

Michael D.A. Aldridge. In August 2008, Mr. Aldridge resigned from his position with us. In connection with his resignation, we agreed to pay Mr. Aldridge a lump sum amount of $175,000 (equal to six months base salary) and to pay COBRA premiums for Mr. Aldridge and his dependents for a period of six months following the date of termination. Mr. Aldridge agreed to remain as a consultant through May 2009, and his separation agreement with us provided that his outstanding options would continue to vest through that date. The agreement provided that Mr. Aldridge would be paid a monthly fee of $6,000 for up to 40 hours per month in consulting services, and an additional $150 per hour for any additional hours worked during this period. In connection with his separation, we agreed to pay up to $20,000 towards executive outplacement services and fees and expenses of counsel for Mr. Aldridge in connection with the negotiation of the separation agreement. Mr. Aldridge agreed to release us from all claims he may have under his employment agreement or otherwise.

Philip K. Moody. In September 2008, Mr. Moody resigned from his position with us. In connection with his resignation, we agreed to pay Mr. Moody a lump sum amount of $140,000 (equal to six months base salary) and to pay COBRA premiums for Mr. Moody and his dependents for a period of six months following the date of termination. Mr. Moody agreed to remain as a consultant through June 15, 2009, and his separation agreement with us provided that his outstanding options would continue to vest through that date. The agreement provided that Mr. Moody would be paid a monthly fee of $1,333 for up to 20 hours per month in consulting services, and an additional $66.67 per hour for any additional hours worked during this period. In connection with his separation, we agreed to pay up to $7,500 towards executive outplacement services and fees and expenses of counsel for Mr. Moody in connection with the negotiation of the separation agreement. Mr. Moody agreed to release us from all claims he may have under his employment agreement or otherwise.

Peter J. Welburn, Ph.D. Pursuant to the terms of his employment agreement, we may terminate Dr. Welburn's service without cause, provided that we make a payment in lieu of the three-month notice period specified in the agreement, plus any accumulated leave. Upon termination for cause, Dr. Welburn may be entitled to accumulated leave payments, if any, and such termination shall be effective from the date of notice of termination submitted by us.

For purposes of Dr. Welburn's employment agreement, cause means if the executive:

is unable to perform his duties under the agreement for a continuous period of nine months in a 12-month period or is unable to perform his duties for separate periods in aggregate of 12 months in a 24-month period;

commits a willful breach or willfully neglects to perform his obligations under the employment agreement, company policy or company code of conduct;

commits any other act which would entitle us to dismiss him summarily; or fails to observe or perform his duties under the employment agreement and fails to cure such failure within seven days of being instructed to do so in writing.

George W. Mahaffey and Cheri A. Jones, M.S. Pursuant to the terms of their respective employment agreements, we may terminate Mr. Mahaffey's or Ms. Jones's service without cause, provided that we make a payment in lieu of the six-month or three-month notice period, respectively, specified in the respective agreement. We may terminate the executive's employment immediately for cause without further compensation.

For purposes of the Mr. Mahaffey and Ms. Jones employment agreements discussed above, cause means if the executive:

engages in misconduct;

commits a willful breach or willfully neglects to perform his obligations under the employment agreement;

fails to observe or perform his duties under the employment agreement and fails to cure such failure within seven days of being instructed to do so in writing;

is convicted of or pleads nolo contendere to any felony or crime of moral turpitude; or refuses to carry out the lawful directions of the board of directors of the employing entity or a supervisor, as specified in the employment agreements.

Mr. Wiggans' employment agreement also provides for a change of control bonus of $500,000, payable upon the occurrence of a change of control, and for acceleration of all outstanding stock options or restricted stock upon the occurrence of a change of control. For purposes of his employment agreement, a change of control is generally defined as one of the following: (a) any person becomes the beneficial owner of our securities representing 50% or more of our combined voting power; (b) a change in the majority of the membership of our board occurs; (c) we are merged, consolidated or combined with another corporation or entity, there is a disposition, transfer, sale or exchange of all or substantially all of our assets, or we acquire the assets or stock of another entity and, in each case, and our stockholders prior to such transaction own less than 50% of the outstanding voting securities of the surviving entity, a majority of our directors were also directors of the successor entity and no one person or group owns 50% or more of the combined voting power of the successor entity; or (d) stockholder approval of a plan of our liquidation or dissolution.

In addition, Mr. Wiggans' employment agreement contains restrictive covenants. Mr. Wiggans has agreed to not solicit employees for a period of 18 months following termination of employment with us, and will not at any time without our prior written approval use any information that constitutes a trade secret to solicit business away from our customers or vendors. Furthermore, he has agreed during not to serve as an employee, consultant or director with any competitor of ours during his employment with us.

In accordance with the rules and requirements of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the following table presents our reasonable estimate of the benefits payable to the named executive officers under our agreements assuming that:

a change of control occurred on June 30, 2009, the last business day of fiscal year 2009; and for Messrs. Aldridge and Moody, a change of control and termination of employment occurred on their last days of employment with us, August 15, 2008 and September 2, 2008, respectively; and a termination without the required notice occurred on June 30, 2009, the last business day of fiscal year 2009.

Excluded are benefits provided to all employees, such as accrued vacation, and benefits provided by third-parties under our life and other insurance policies. While we have made reasonable assumptions regarding the amounts payable, there can be no assurance that in the event of a qualifying termination in connection with a change of control, the named executive officers will receive the amounts reflected below.

Option Acceleration Policy

Our board of directors has adopted a policy that provides that in the event of a change of control, with respect to our Chief Executive Officer all unvested options held at the time of such change of control will become fully vested and exercisable and for those officers who report directly to our Chief Executive Officer, which includes each of our named executive officers, each officer's unvested options held at the time of such change of control will become fully vested and exercisable where the officer is not offered a continuing position of equal responsibility. Our board of directors has the right to amend or terminate this policy at any time. The term "change of control" has not been defined for these purposes. Our board of directors in its discretion determines whether a change of control has occurred under this policy, except for Mr. Wiggans' employment agreement, which defines change of control for these purposes.

Table of ContentsDirector Compensation

Our executive officers do not receive additional compensation for their service as directors. The table below summarizes the compensation received by our directors who were non-employees for fiscal 2009. The compensation in the below table for Mr. Wiggans and Dr. Bauer is related to their service as non-employee directors before they became executive officers of the company, and does not include compensation for their service as executive officers of the company. The retainer fees are paid to our directors in Australian dollars, and the amounts shown below have been converted to U.S. dollars at an exchange rate of A$1 for each US$0.7477, which was the average exchange rate published by the Reserve Bank of Australia for the period from July 1, 2008 through June 30, 2009.

(1) Non-employee director retainer fees are determined by our board of directors within the aggregate limit for directors fees previously approved prior to the Reorganization. Non-employee director retainer fees were A$50,000 for all non-employee directors from July 1, 2008 through February 28, 2009, and US$50,000 for U.S.-based non-employee directors and A$60,000 for Australian-based non-employee directors from March 1, 2009 through June 30, 2009.

Non-employee directors do not receive any retirement allowances or benefits, other than statutory superannuation entitlements, which are funded through a portion of the fees shown above. We pay no additional fees for attending meetings or for serving on committees.

- (2) The amounts shown are the amounts of compensation cost recognized by us in fiscal year 2009 related to the grants of stock options in fiscal year 2009 and prior fiscal years, as prescribed under the Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 (revised 2004), Share Based Payment, as amended, or SFAS No. 123R.

As of the end of our 2009 fiscal year, each of Dr. Pace and Messrs. Scopa and Spooner held options to acquire 20,000 shares of our common stock, Dr. Bauer held options to acquire 105,000 shares of our common stock, Ms. Hirst held options to acquire 15,000 shares of our common stock, and Mr. Wiggans held options to acquire 250,000 shares of our common stock.

With the exception of Mr. Wiggans, who holds unvested options to acquire 128,645 shares of our common stock and Dr. Bauer who holds unvested options to acquire 100,000 shares of our common stock, none of our other non-employee directors held any unvested stock awards as of the end of our 2009 fiscal year.

Newly appointed non-employee directors have historically been granted stock options in their first year of service on our board after approval of the stock option grants by our stockholders.

In March 2009, the compensation committee engaged Setren, Smallberg & Associates, an independent consultant hired by us, to review director compensation, both the cash and equity components. The consultant used data from the Radford database for life sciences companies and the consultant's own internal data in making its recommendations to the compensation committee. The committee decided that the cash component of director compensation was below the targeted midpoint of the comparator group and, as a result, should be increased. The committee determined that cash compensation should increase from A$50,000 for all non-employee directors to US$50,000 for U.S.-based non-employee directors and A$60,000 for Australian-based non-employee directors. The committee decided that the equity component of compensation as determined in a December 2007 remain competitive.

In December 2007, based on a review by Setren, Smallberg & Associates, the compensation committee decided to set option grants at 25,000 upon appointment to the board of directors and up to an additional 15,000 options annually, and to provide the Chairman 50,000 additional options upon appointment and up to an additional 15,000 annually. In October 2008; following the approval of our stockholders at our annual meeting of stockholders, we granted options to purchase 15,000 shares to each of our non-executive directors.

Our non-employee directors do not receive any additional fees for serving on our board or committees, or attending meetings and, as a result of Mr. Wiggins becoming our Chief Executive Officer in August 2008, he is no longer paid annual retainer fees as our Chairman. In addition, Dr. Bauer no longer receives annual retainer fees as a non-employee director as a result of his becoming our President and Chief Medical Officer in September 2008.

Compensation Committee Interlocks and Insider Participation

The members of our compensation committee during fiscal 2009 were: Messrs. Scopa, Pace and Spooner for all of fiscal 2009 and Messrs. Bauer and Wiggins until their appointments as executive officers of Peplin in July 2008 and September 2008, respectively. The board of directors appointed Mr. Scopa as chairperson of the compensation committee in September 2008 upon Mr. Wiggins' departure from the committee.

During fiscal 2009, Messrs. Bauer and Scopa were the only members of the compensation committee that had any relationship with Peplin requiring disclosure under Item 404 of Regulation S-K.

Pursuant to a purchase agreement for shares and options entered into in May 2006, by and among Peplin Limited and MPM BioVentures IV-QP L.P., MPM BioVentures IV, L.P. and MPM Asset Management Investors BV4, or collectively, MPM, Peplin Limited undertook to procure that a resolution be put to shareholders to appoint Mr. Scopa, who is a general partner of MPM, as a director and also to appoint a person nominated by MPM as a director. Mr. Scopa was elected as a director by shareholders in June 2006 and Dr. Bauer, MPM's nominated person, was also elected by shareholders in June 2006. Since each respective election, Mr. Scopa and Dr. Bauer have served as directors under the terms of the constitution of Peplin Limited and no further obligations in relation to their appointments exist under the purchase agreement. We have paid MPM fees related to our capital raisings in 2006 in the amounts of $93,292, and $57,240 in the years ended June 30, 2006 and 2007, respectively.

Effective October 16, 2008, we acquired all of the outstanding shares of Neosil, Inc., or Neosil, a privately held, dermatology-focused company. The purchase price of $6.7 million was settled with 819,378 shares of our common stock in exchange for all the outstanding shares of Neosil. Dr. Bauer, a member of our board of directors and chief medical officer, was the chief executive officer of Neosil and a stockholder in Neosil. Dr. Bauer received zero shares of our common stock in connection with the Acquisition.

On September 11, 2007 and October 8, 2007, Peplin Limited issued an aggregate of 22,222,222 ordinary shares, or 1,111,112 shares after giving effect to the Reorganization, for an aggregate consideration of approximately $17.1 million. The issuance was made in a private placement to certain investors pursuant to subscription agreements with Peplin Limited, entered into on August 9, 2007, which contained customary provisions for such agreements, including representations and warranties with respect to each party, covenants designed to preserve exemption from registration under the Securities Act of 1933 and confidentiality provisions. In addition, Peplin Limited reimbursed MPM BioVentures IV LLC, an existing stockholder, $14,700 of its legal costs incurred in connection with the transaction. Dr. Patou, a consultant who served as Interim Chief Medical Officer from June 2006 to April 2007 and again from June 2008 through August 2008, is an executive partner of MPM BioVentures IV LLC. Our audit committee, compensation committee and nominating and corporate governance committee charters are available on our website, www.peplin.com, under the Corporate Information section. The inclusion of our website address in this Amendment does not include or incorporate by reference the information on our website into this Amendment.
