Table of ContentsNotes to Consolidated Financial Statements

These interim statements and management's related discussion and analysis should be read in conjunction with the Consolidated Financial Statements and their related notes and management's discussion and analysis of results of operations and financial condition included in our 2009 Annual Report on Form 10-K (2009 Form 10-K). These interim statements are unaudited. The year-end condensed balance sheet data was derived from audited financial statements, but does not include all disclosures required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. We have historically operated on a 52/53 week fiscal year ending on the Friday closest to the last day of the quarter. For ease of presentation, December 31 and June 30 are utilized consistently throughout this report and these financial statements and notes to represent the period-end date. In the opinion of our management, all adjustments, including normal recurring accruals, necessary for a fair presentation of the results for the interim periods have been made.

Note 1. Recent Accounting Pronouncements:

In January 2010, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued authoritative guidance revising certain disclosure requirements concerning fair value measurements. The guidance requires an entity to disclose separately significant transfers into and out of Levels 1 and 2 of the fair value hierarchy and to disclose the reasons for such transfers. It will also require the presentation of purchases, sales, issuances and settlements within Level 3, on a gross basis rather than a net basis. These new disclosure requirements were effective for our first quarter of 2010, except for the additional disclosure of Level 3 activity, which is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2010. We did not have any such transfers into and out of Levels 1 and 2 during the three months and six months ended June 30, 2010. We are currently evaluating the full impact of this guidance, but do not expect it to have a material impact on the disclosures in our Consolidated Financial Statements in future filings.

Note 2. Reclassifications:

Certain reclassifications and revisions have been made to the prior years' financial statements to conform to the 2010 presentation. During 2009, the Company revised its method of reporting Research and Development (R&D) credits to be properly reflected as a reduction in R&D expense versus a reduction in income tax expense. The R&D revision increased the income tax expense for the three months and six months ended June 30, 2009 in the amounts of $2.8 million and $3.7 million, respectively. The 2009 revisions had no impact on net income.

Reclassifications, including their impact, on the Consolidated Statement of Income for the three months and six months ended June 30, 2009 were as follows: Cost of goods sold increased $0.2 million and $0.3 million, respectively; R&D decreased $1.7 million and $3.7 million, respectively; and Selling and Administrative increased $1.5 million and $3.4 million, respectively.

Note 3. Net Income Per Share:

Net income per share is based on the weighted average number of shares outstanding. A reconciliation of the shares used in the computation of basic and diluted net income per share is as follows:

	Three Months Ended June		Six Months Ended June
	30,		30,
(Shares in thousands)	2010	2009	2010	2009
Basic	79,188	78,352	78,978	78,273
Assumed dilution under stock plans	923	698	924	625
Diluted	80,111	79,050	79,902	78,898

Stock options and stock settled appreciation rights (SSARs) to purchase 249,000 shares and 1,913,000 shares were outstanding as of June 30, 2010 and June 30, 2009, respectively, but were not included in the computation of diluted net income per share for the respective periods since the impact was anti-dilutive.

We have issued shares of Purchased Restricted Stock (PRS) which contain nonforfeitable rights to dividends and thus are considered participating securities which are required to be included in the computation of basic and diluted earnings per share pursuant to the two-class method. We did not present the two-class method since the difference between basic and diluted net income per share for both common shareholders and PRS shareholders was less than $0.01 per share for each period and the number of PRS outstanding as of June 30, 2010 and 2009 was immaterial (approximately 0.6% of the total number of common shares outstanding). Net income allocated to such PRS was $0.4 million and $0.8 million during the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, respectively and $0.3 million and $0.6 million during the three and six months ended June 30, 2009, respectively.

Table of ContentsNote 4. Restructuring and Other Charges:

The Company has completed its previously announced negotiations with the Drogheda, Ireland employee representatives regarding separation benefits related to the closure of the Company's compounding facility at that location. Based upon the period-end estimates regarding the separation agreements, the Company increased its provision for severance costs by approximately $4 million in the first quarter of 2010. The balance of the restructuring charges in the first six months of 2010 was mainly due to accelerated depreciation and other restructuring related costs pertaining to the rationalization of our Fragrance and Ingredients operations in Europe.

We expect to incur total costs related to this restructuring plan of approximately $31-$34 million, consisting primarily of $18 million of employee termination costs, $9-$12 million in plant shutdown and business transition costs and $4 million in accelerated depreciation of related fixed assets. The increase from our prior estimate reflects projected higher inventory write-offs and transition costs associated with a more complex operating environment, due to higher activity levels, and potential incremental pension settlement costs.

Since the third quarter of 2009, we have recorded total expenses of $24.0 million relating to this plan, of which $21.1 million was recorded to restructuring and other charges and $2.9 million recorded to costs of sales and research, selling and administrative expenses.

The balance of the employee-related liabilities is expected to be utilized by the end of 2011 as obligations are satisfied. Change in restructuring liabilities during the six months ended June 30, 2010 is as follows:

	Employee- Related	Asset- Related and Other	Total
Balance December 31, 2009	$ 18,914	$	$ 18,914
Additional charges	3,894	2,937	6,831

The estimated fair value at June 30, 2010 of our Senior Notes 2007 and Senior Notes 2006 was approximately $591 million and $360 million, respectively. The fair value of our Senior Notes was calculated using discounted cash flows applying current interest rates and current credit spreads based on our own credit risk. The estimated fair value of the remainder of our long-term debt at June 30, 2010 approximated the carrying value.

Table of ContentsNote 8. Income Taxes:

As of June 30, 2010, we had $67 million of gross unrecognized tax benefits recorded in Other liabilities, that if recognized, would be recorded as a component of income tax expense and would affect our effective tax rate.

We have consistently recognized interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits as a component of income tax expense. At June 30, 2010, we had accrued $11 million of interest and penalties.

We have several tax audits in process and have open tax years with various significant taxing jurisdictions that range primarily from 2002 to 2009. Based on currently available information, we do not believe the ultimate outcome of these tax audits and other tax positions related to open tax years, when finalized, will have a material adverse effect on our financial position, results of operations or cash flows. We review uncertain tax positions on an ongoing basis and related reserves are adjusted in light of changing facts and circumstances including the progress of tax audits.

The Company has historically utilized bank guarantees to collateralize tax exposures related to certain administrative proceedings. With the current turmoil in the credit markets, the Company may be precluded from securing similar forms of collateral for unrecognized tax benefits. If this situation occurs, the Company may be required to self-fund any future collateral obligations.

The effective tax rate for the three and six months ended June 30, 2010 was 28.3% compared with 29.2% and 27.3% for the comparable periods in 2009. The reduction in the effective tax rate in three months ended June 30, 2010 was mainly attributable to mix of earnings across the countries in which the company operates and lower relative repatriation costs. A lower effective tax rate on the restructuring charges also impacted the 2010 rate as compared to the three and six months ended June 30, 2009.

Note 9. Equity Compensation Plans:

We have various plans under which our officers, senior management, other key employees and directors may be granted equity-based awards, including PRS, restricted stock units (RSUs), SSARs or stock options to purchase our common stock.

We offer a Long-Term Incentive Plan (LTIP) for senior management. LTIP plan awards are based on meeting certain targeted financial and/or strategic goals established by the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors early in each three-year LTIP cycle. Beginning with the LTIP 2007-2009 cycle and each three-year cycle thereafter, the targeted payout is 50% cash and 50% IFF stock. The number of shares for the 50% stock portion is determined by the closing share price on the first trading day at the beginning of the cycle. Generally, the executive must remain employed with IFF during the cycle to receive the payment.

Principal assumptions used in applying the Binomial model for SSAR s granted during the six months ended June 30, 2010 and June 30, 2009 were as follows:

Table of ContentsNote 10. Segment Information:

We are organized into two business segments, Flavors and Fragrances; these segments align with the internal structure used to manage these businesses. Accounting policies used for segment reporting are described in Note 1 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in our 2009 Form 10-K. We evaluate the performance of these segments, which we refer to as business units, based on operating profit before interest expense, other income (expense), net and income taxes.

The Global expenses caption represents corporate and headquarters-related expenses which include legal, finance, human resources, certain incentive compensation expenses and other administrative expenses that are not allocated to individual business units.

Our reportable segment information was as follows:

In the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, no contributions were made to our qualified U.S. pension plan. In the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, $3.5 million and $7.8 million of contributions were made to the non-U.S. plans, respectively. In the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, no benefit payments were made with respect to our non-qualified U.S. pension plan.

The financial returns of our investment trusts during the first half of 2010 continue to be generally in line with the markets by asset class. We had little exposure to financial institution equities and had no direct investments in sub-prime related assets.

Note 12. Financial Instruments:

Fair Value

Accounting guidance on fair value measurements specifies a hierarchy of valuation techniques based on whether the inputs to those valuation techniques are observable or unobservable. Observable inputs reflect market data obtained from independent sources, while unobservable inputs reflect our market assumptions. These two types of inputs create the following fair value hierarchy:

Level 1 Quoted prices for identical instruments in active markets.

Level 2 Quoted prices for similar instruments in active markets; quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets that are not active; and model-derived valuations in which all significant inputs and significant value drivers are observable in active markets.

Level 3 Valuations derived from valuation techniques in which one or more significant inputs or significant value drivers are unobservable.

This hierarchy requires us to use observable market data, when available, and to minimize the use of unobservable inputs when determining fair value.

When available, we generally use quoted market prices to determine fair value, and classify such items in Level 1. We determine the fair value of structured liabilities (where performance is linked to structured interest rates, inflation or currency risks) using the LIBOR (London InterBank Offer Rate) swap curve and forward interest and exchange rates at period end. Such instruments are classified as Level 2 based on the observability of significant inputs to the model. The fair value of these liabilities, net was approximately $4.6 million at June 30, 2010. We do not have any instruments classified as Level 3.

The market valuation adjustments include a bilateral or own credit risk adjustment applied to reflect our own credit risk when valuing all liabilities measured at fair value, in accordance with the requirements under the accounting guidance. The methodology is consistent with that applied in generating counterparty credit risk adjustments, but incorporates our own credit risk as observed in the credit default swap market. As for counterparty credit risk, our own credit risk adjustments include the impact of credit risk mitigants. The estimated change in the fair value of these liabilities due to such changes in our own credit risk (or instrument-specific credit risk) was immaterial as of June 30, 2010.

Derivatives

We periodically enter into foreign currency forward contracts with the objective of reducing exposure to cash flow volatility associated with our intercompany loans, foreign currency receivables and payables, and anticipated purchases of certain raw materials used in operations. These contracts generally involve the exchange of one currency for a second currency at a future date, have maturities not exceeding twelve months and are with counterparties which are major international financial institutions.

In 2003, we executed a 10-year Yen U.S. dollar currency swap related to the monthly sale and purchase of products between the U.S. and Japan which has been designated as a cash flow hedge.

In 2005, we entered into an interest rate swap agreement effectively converting the fixed rate on our long-term Japanese Yen borrowings to a variable short-term rate based on the Tokyo InterBank Offering Rate (TIBOR) plus an interest markup. This swap was designated as a fair value hedge. Any amounts recognized in interest expense for both periods presented have been insignificant.

In February 2009, we paid $16 million to close out the $300 million U.S. Dollar (USD) LIBOR to European InterBank Offer Rate (EURIBOR) interest rate swap. As this swap was designated as a net investment hedge, $12 million of the loss was deferred in AOCI where it will remain until the Euro net investment is divested and $4 million was included as a component of interest expense during the six months ended June 30, 2009.

Table of Contents

In May 2009 we entered into a forward currency contract which qualified as a net investment hedge, in order to protect a portion of our net European investment from foreign currency risk. We recognized a $1.6 million loss during the year ended December 31, 2009, which was deferred as a component of AOCI. The ineffective portion of this net investment hedge was not material. This forward currency contract matured before the end of the second quarter of 2009. Upon its maturity, we entered into an intercompany loan payable in the amount of 40 million Euros in order to protect a portion of our net European investment from foreign currency risk. This intercompany loan was designated as a net investment hedge and experienced no ineffectiveness while outstanding. We recognized a $3.1 million loss during the year ended December 31, 2009, which was deferred as a component of AOCI.

In March 2010, we entered into three forward currency contracts which qualified as net investment hedges, in order to protect a portion of our net European investments from foreign currency risk. Two of these three forward currency contracts matured; one during the three months ended June 30, 2010 and the other during the three months ended March 31, 2010.

During the second quarter of 2010, we entered into four forward currency contracts which qualified as net investment hedges, in order to mitigate a portion of our net European investments from foreign currency risk.

During the second quarter of 2010, we entered into several forward currency contracts which qualified as cash flow hedges. The objective of these hedges is to protect the currency risk associated with forecasted US Dollar (USD) denominated raw material purchases made by Euro (EUR) functional entities which result from changes in the EUR/USD exchange rate.

Note 13. Commitments and Contingencies:

The Company accrues for contingencies related to litigation in accordance with ASC 450-20, Loss Contingencies, which requires the Company to assess contingencies to determine the degree of probability and range of possible loss. An estimated loss contingency is accrued in the Company's consolidated financial statements if it is probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount of the loss can be reasonably estimated. Because litigation is inherently unpredictable and unfavorable resolutions could occur, assessing contingencies is highly sensitive and requires judgments about future events. The Company regularly reviews contingencies to determine the adequacy of accruals. The amount of ultimate loss may differ from these estimates and further events may require the Company to increase the amounts it has accrued on any matter. It is possible that cash flows or results of operations could be materially affected in any particular period by the unfavorable resolution of one or more of these contingencies.

Popcorn Flavor Litigation

We are party to a number of lawsuits and claims related primarily to flavoring supplied by us and by other third party suppliers, in most instances to manufacturers of butter flavored popcorn. A total of fourteen actions involving 228 claimants are currently pending against us and other flavor suppliers and related companies based on similar claims of alleged respiratory illness. In certain cases, plaintiffs are unable to demonstrate that they have suffered a compensable loss as a result of such exposure, or that injuries incurred in fact resulted from exposure to our flavor products. In most of the complaints, the damages sought by the plaintiffs are not alleged at the pleading stage and may not be specified until a much later time in the proceeding, if at all. During the six months ended June 30, 2010, there have been two new actions filed involving ten claimants and two actions involving four claimants have been settled for a net out-of-pocket amount which is not material to us including insurance recovery, and three other cases have been consolidated with other pending cases. In addition, 55 claimants were voluntarily dismissed from continuing cases based on a determination that their claims lacked merit.

At each balance sheet date, or more frequently as conditions warrant, we review the status of each pending claim, as well as our insurance coverage for such claims with due consideration given to potentially applicable deductibles, retentions and reservation of rights under insurance policies with respect to all these matters. The liabilities are recorded at management's best estimate of the outcome of the lawsuits and claims, taking into consideration the facts and circumstances of the individual matters as well as past experience on similar matters. Amounts accrued are also based upon our historical experience with these claims, including claims which have been closed with no liability as well as claims settled to date. Settled claims, since the inception of the flavor-related claims, have not been material to us in any reporting period after giving effect to insurance recovery. At each balance sheet date, the key issues that management assesses are whether it is probable that a loss as to asserted or unasserted claims has been incurred and if so, whether the amount of loss can be reasonably estimated. We are not able to provide an amount or range of estimated loss in excess of the liability currently accrued at the balance sheet date as to asserted and unasserted claims because such estimate cannot reasonably be made.

While the ultimate outcome of any litigation cannot be predicted, management believes that adequate provision has been made with respect to all known claims. Based on information presently available and in light of the merits of our defenses and the availability of insurance, we do not expect the outcome of the above cases, singly or in the aggregate, to have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, results of operations or liquidity. There can be no assurance that future events will not require us to increase the amount we have accrued for any matter or accrue for a matter that has not been previously accrued.

We periodically assess our insurance coverage for all known claims, taking into account aggregate coverages by occurrence, limits of coverage, self-insured retentions and deductibles, historical claims experience and claims experience with insurers.

We record the expected liability with respect to these claims in Other liabilities and expected recoveries from our insurance carrier group in Other assets. We believe that realization of the insurance receivable is probable due to the terms of the insurance policies and the payment experience to date of the carrier group as it relates to these claims.

Patent Claims

A complaint, captioned V. Mane Fils S.A. v. International Flavors and Fragrances, Inc. was filed in U.S. District Court in the District of New Jersey in May 2006, and alleges that the Company has and continues to infringe U.S. Patent Nos. 5,725,856 and 5,843,466, relating to a flavor ingredient that may provide a cooling effect. The Company answered the complaint by denying liability, asserting that both patents are invalid and various other defenses. In June 2008, plaintiff amended its complaint to add claims for violations of the Lanham Act, tortious interference and unfair competition. The Company answered the amended complaint by denying all liability. In connection with the patent claims, the plaintiff seeks monetary damages, damages for alleged willful infringement, injunctive relief and fees, costs and interest. In connection with the additional claims, plaintiff also seeks monetary damages, punitive damages and fees and costs. In May 2010, following reexamination of the patents in question by the U.S. Patent Office, all of the patent claims, initially rejected in the reexamination proceeding, were reallocated. The Company and the plaintiff have each filed motions for summary judgment with respect to various claims. No trial date has been scheduled. The Company denies the allegations and will defend its position in Court.

We analyze our liability on a regular basis and accrue for litigation loss contingencies when they are probable and estimable. During the second quarter 2010, we recorded a provision related to this case which is reflected in Other Liabilities. The Company is unable to reasonably estimate the amount or realistic range of potential loss above its recorded liability, if any, that might result if the outcome of this matter is unfavorable. Based on present information, the Company believes that its ultimate liability, if any, arising from this proceeding would not have a material adverse effect on its financial position or liquidity; however, due to the unpredictability regarding the litigation process, such claims, if ultimately resolved against us, could potentially have a material adverse effect on our cash flows or results of operations in a particular period. An adverse outcome could also potentially affect our ability to sell one or more flavor products to the extent the Court ultimately issued an injunction related to the patents. The Company disputes the allegations of wrongdoing, believes it has meritorious defenses and is vigorously defending all claims.

Environmental

Over the past approximately 20 years, various federal and state authorities and private parties have claimed that we are a Potentially Responsible Party (PRP) as a generator of waste materials for alleged pollution at a number of waste sites operated by third parties located principally in New Jersey and have sought to recover costs incurred and to be incurred to clean up the sites.

We have been identified as a PRP at ten facilities operated by third parties at which investigation and/or remediation activities may be ongoing. We analyze our liability on a regular basis and accrue for environmental liabilities when they are probable and estimable. At June 30, 2010, we estimated our share of the total future costs for these sites to be less than $5 million.

While joint and several liability is authorized under federal and state environmental laws, we believe that the amounts we have paid and anticipate paying in the future for clean-up costs and damages at all sites are not and will not be material to our financial condition, results of operations or liquidity. This conclusion is based upon, among other things, the involvement of other PRP s at most sites, the status of the proceedings, including various settlement agreements and consent decrees, the extended time period over which payment will likely be made and an agreement reached in July 1994 with three of our liability insurers pursuant to which defense costs and indemnity amounts payable by us in respect of the sites will be shared by the insurers up to an agreed amount.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Overview

We are a leading creator and manufacturer of flavor and fragrance compounds used to impart or improve the flavor or fragrance in a wide variety of consumer products. The precise size of the global market for flavors and fragrances is difficult to determine because the industry is highly fragmented, both geographically and along product lines; there are a limited number of publicly traded companies in the industry; certain customers maintain in-house capabilities fulfilling a portion of their flavor or fragrance needs; and the quality and depth of market information in developing regions of the world is limited.

IFF is organized into two business units that reflect our Flavor and Fragrance businesses. Flavor compounds are sold to the food and beverage industries for use in consumer products such as prepared foods, beverages, dairy, food and confectionery products. The fragrance business unit consists of three fragrance categories: functional fragrances, including fragrance compounds for personal care (e.g., soaps) and household products (e.g., detergents, softeners, cleaning agents, candles and air fresheners); fine fragrance and beauty care, including perfumes, colognes and toiletries; and ingredients, consisting of natural and synthetic ingredients that can be combined with other materials to create unique functional and fine fragrance compounds. Major fragrance customers include the cosmetics industry, including perfume and toiletries manufacturers, and the household products industry, including manufacturers of soaps, detergents, fabric care, household cleaners and air fresheners. Approximately 55% of our ingredient production is consumed internally; the balance is sold to third party customers.

The under-pinning of structural growth for the flavor and fragrance industry is population growth, an expanding middle class and technology. Changing social habits resulting from factors such as increases in personal income, leisure time, health and wellness and urbanization stimulate demand for consumer products utilizing flavors and fragrances. These developments also drive the creation and development of new molecules, technologies and/or solutions that facilitate and improve the end-use consumption of flavors and fragrances in consumer products.

Flavors and fragrances are generally:

- created for the exclusive use by a specific customer;
- sold in powder or liquid form, in amounts ranging from a few pounds to several tons depending on the nature of the end product in which they are used;
- a small percentage of the volume and cost of the end product sold to the consumer; and
- a major factor in directing consumer preference for consumer packaged goods.

The flavors and fragrances industry is impacted by macroeconomic factors in all product categories and geographic regions. Such factors include the impact of currency on the price of raw materials and operating costs, as well as on translation of reported results.

In addition, IFF is susceptible to margin pressures due to customers' cost improvement programs and input cost increases. However, these pressures can often be mitigated through a combination of product reformulation, sourcing strategies and material substitution plus internal cost containment efforts, and the development of innovative and streamlined solutions and processes.

STRATEGIC DRIVERS

To increase shareholder value, we pursue and develop a value-creation model that encompasses three main elements: investing in research & development to identify and commercialize new, innovative materials and delivery systems; maintaining a deep understanding of both consumer preferences and consumer product brands; and excellence in our creative capabilities. Our goal is to deliver differentiated solutions that enable our customers' brands to win in the marketplace.

In order to pursue these strategies, our organization is focused on ensuring that we efficiently create, produce, and sell unique, superior, and economically competitive products through our world class integration of research and development, consumer insight, creativity, via excellence in execution. We believe we are well positioned to achieve success by targeting strategically important global and regional customers in both developed and emerging markets; attracting, developing and retaining top talent; investing in research and development; and fostering a culture of innovation, accountability and continuous improvement.

Operations

Comparison of Second Quarters of 2010 and 2009

Sales Commentary

Second quarter 2010 sales totaled $666 million, an increase of 17% from the prior year quarter. The significant growth (+17% in local currency (LC) terms) reflects higher volume in both businesses and continued strong success in driving new business, which accounted for approximately 40% of the LC sales growth. The higher volumes were driven by a recovery in demand, lower base period comparisons in the second quarter 2009, primarily in Fine Fragrances and Ingredients, and some element of re-stocking across both businesses.

On a reported basis, Flavors' sales increased 13%; excluding the impact of foreign currency translation, sales for the Flavors business increased 11% from the prior year period. Two thirds of the improvement was driven by higher volume (including elements of re-stocking) with the balance due to net new wins. Solid LC growth was experienced across all product categories, led by Beverages. Double digit growth was seen in Europe, Africa and Middle East (EAME) and Greater Asia as a result of higher volumes and new business particularly in the Beverage, Savory, and Confectionery categories. Growth in both regions benefited from investments made last year to strengthen our commercial and development capabilities. Sales in North America were up 7% driven by higher volume in Confectionery and Beverages, partially offset by weakness in Dairy sales. Latin America had solid growth, up 4% in LC as volume recovery in Confectionery and Savory and new net wins more than offset the effects of non-strategic business lost in the second half of 2009.

Fragrance sales increased significantly, up 21% on a reported basis and 23% in LC terms. Approximately 60% of the improvement is due to increased volume, primarily in Fine Fragrance and Ingredients, with the balance attributable to new business. Volume gains are attributable to a bounce back in demand, mainly in Fine Fragrance and Ingredients, lower base period comparisons, and some elements of re-stocking. Overall, Fine and Beauty Care LC sales increased 37% versus last year, driven by new business that was supported by increased customer promotional activities, a recovery in demand, and low prior year sales levels. LC Functional Fragrance sales increased 12%, driven by continued strong fabric care performance. All regions delivered double-digit LC sales gains, led by EAME (Fine Fragrance and Ingredients) and Greater Asia (Functional Fragrance and Beauty Care).

North America Fine & Beauty Care sales growth was driven primarily by higher volume, weak year ago comparison levels, and some elements of re-stocking. The strong performance in Ingredients reflects broad-based volume gains and weak market conditions last year. The improvement in Functional Fragrance sales was driven by new wins in Home Care and Fabric Care categories. Flavors business growth was due to higher Confectionery, Savory and Beverage volume.

EAME showed strong sales gains across all categories, led by net new wins and demand recovery in Fine Fragrance and Ingredients as well as higher volume and new wins in EAME and Greater Asia for Flavors, notably within the Beverage, Savory, and Confectionery categories. Customer re-stocking also supported growth across most categories.

Latin America sales performance was driven by a strong recovery in Fine & Beauty Care and Ingredients and new wins and volume recovery in Confectionery and Savory for Flavors that more than offset the effects of non-strategic business lost last year.

Greater Asia delivered double-digit LC sales growth in all categories, except Ingredients, whose growth was 7%. Fine & Beauty Care gains were driven by new wins in Hair Care and Toiletries as well as demand recovery for Fine Fragrance off a weak prior year base. We continue to experience strong growth in Fabric and Personal Wash within Functional Fragrances while Flavor sales growth was driven by new product introductions and volume growth in Savory, Beverage and Confectionery.

While we believe that the impact of re-stocking is an important driver of year-over-year sales growth, it is not possible to specifically quantify the impact either in total or by category. We have, however, seen evidence that the benefit from this driver has slowed through the course of the second quarter of 2010.

Consolidated Operating Results

The percentage relationship of cost of goods sold and other operating expenses to reported sales is as follows:

Three months
ended June 30,
2010 2009

Edgar Filing: INTERNATIONAL FLAVORS & FRAGRANCES INC - Form 10-Q

Cost of goods sold	57.2%	59.9%
Research and development expenses	8.4%	7.8%
Selling and administrative expenses	18.0%	16.9%

Cost of goods sold includes the cost of materials and manufacturing expenses; raw materials generally constitute 70% of the total. Research and development (R&D) expenses are for the development of new materials and delivery systems, new flavor and fragrance compounds, technical product support, compliance with governmental regulations, and help in maintaining relationships with customers who are often dependent on technological advances. Selling and administrative expenses support our sales and operating levels.

Cost of goods sold, as a percentage of sales, decreased to 57.2% in 2010 compared to 59.9% during 2009. The improvement versus 2009 is principally attributable to favorable input costs, with the balance due to better absorption resulting from higher volumes and continued margin recovery efforts.

R&D expenses increased approximately $12 million from the prior year. The increase is due to higher incentive compensation accruals of $6 million, lower R&D credits of $2 million, and currency movements of $1 million. The remaining amount is due to targeted investments to support our strategic growth initiatives and lower prior period base comparison resulting from a significant curtailment in 2009 spend due to the prevailing economic crisis.

Selling and administrative expenses (S&A), as a percentage of sales, increased to 18.0% of sales compared to 16.9% of sales in the second quarter of 2009. Overall spending increased $23 million versus the prior year quarter mainly driven by higher provisions for incentive compensation of $12 million. The remainder of the increase is attributable to litigation related costs, investments and spending to support the higher level of business activity, unfavorable foreign currency movements and lower prior period base spending resulting from a significant curtailment in 2009 due to the prevailing economic crisis.

Interest Expense

In the second quarter of 2010, interest expense totaled $12.1 million compared to $14.0 million in 2009. The reduction is due to certain debt repayments of more than $210 million made during the second half of 2009 in connection with an advance prepayment of a Japanese Yen term loan and certain private placement loans. Average cost of debt was 4.8% for the 2010 period compared to 4.6% in 2009.

Other (Income) Expense, Net

Other expense of $2.1 million in the second quarter of 2010 increased $0.5 million versus other expense of $1.6 million in 2009, mainly due to higher losses on foreign exchange transactions compared to the prior year.

Income Taxes

The effective tax rate was 28.3% for the three months ended June 30, 2010 as compared to a rate of 29.2% in the prior year quarter. The reduction in the effective tax rate in 2010 was mainly attributable to mix of earnings across the countries in which the company operates and lower relative repatriation costs. A lower effective tax rate on the restructuring charges also impacted the 2010 rate.

Operating Results by Business Unit

We evaluate the performance of business units based on operating profit before interest expense, other income (expense), net and income taxes. See Note 10 to our Consolidated Financial Statements for the reconciliation to Income before taxes.

Flavors

In the second quarter 2010, Flavors operating profit totaled $65 million, or 21.2% as a percentage of sales, compared to $55 million or 20.2% in 2009. The improvement in profitability was mainly driven by strong sales growth and associated absorption, favorable input costs and the continued efforts in our margin improvement initiatives. These improvements were partially offset by higher incentive compensation costs and investments in R&D.

Fragrances

Fragrance operating profit for the second quarter of 2010 was $65 million or 18.1%, as a percentage of sales, compared to $38 million or 12.6% reported in 2009. The improvement in profit was driven by higher volumes and lower input costs plus good cost leverage on R&D, selling and administrative expenses. The 2010 period includes $2 million of restructuring related charges related to the rationalization of our European fragrance manufacturing footprint and higher incentive compensation expense. The restructuring charge in the second quarter of 2009 was $5 million. These improvements were partially offset by higher incentive compensation costs.

Table of Contents*Global Expenses*

Global expenses represent corporate and headquarters-related expenses which include legal, finance, human resources and other administrative expenses that are not allocated to an individual business unit. In 2010, Global expenses for the second quarter were $22 million compared to $9 million during the second quarter of 2009. The increase is primarily due to higher incentive compensation accruals plus litigation related costs.

Comparison of First Six Months of 2010 and 2009Sales Commentary

The first half 2010 sales totaled $1,320 million, an increase of 17% from the first half of 2009. The significant acceleration of growth (+15% in local currency (LC) terms) from the greater levels reported in the second half of 2009 reflects higher volumes in both businesses and continued strong success in driving new business with both new and existing customers, which accounted for more than 40% of the LC sales growth. The higher volumes were driven by recovery in demand, lower base period comparisons in the first half of 2009, primarily in Fine Fragrances, Ingredients, and Home Care, and some element of re-stocking across both businesses. Foreign currency movements added 2% to year-over-year sales growth in the first half of 2010.

On a reported basis Flavor sales increased 13%; excluding the impact of foreign currency translation, sales for the Flavors business increased 10% from the prior year period. Approximately 60% of the improvement was driven by higher volume (including some elements of re-stocking) with the remaining due to net new business. Solid growth was experienced across all product categories. Double digit LC growth was seen in EAME and Greater Asia as a result of higher volumes and new business particularly in the Beverage, Confectionery, and Savory categories. Growth in both regions benefited from investments made last year to strengthen our commercial and development capabilities. Sales in North America were up 3% due to higher volume and new business in Beverages and Confectionery. Latin America had solid growth, up 5% in LC as new wins and volume recovery in Confectionery and Savory more than offset the effects of non-strategic business lost in the second half of 2009.

Fragrance sales increased significantly, up 21% on a reported basis and 20% in LC terms. Approximately 55% of the improvement was driven by increased volume (including weak prior year base sales in Fine Fragrance and Ingredients), with the balance due to net new business. Volume gains is attributable to a bounce back in demand driven by increased customer promotional activities, mainly in Fine Fragrance, lower base period comparisons, and re-stocking decisions. Overall, Fine and Beauty Care LC sales increased 32% versus last year, driven new business, a recovery in demand, and low prior year activity levels. LC Functional Fragrance sales increased 11%, driven by continued strong Fabric Care and Home Care performance. All regions delivered double-digit LC sales gains, led by EAME (Fine Fragrance and Ingredients) and Greater Asia (Fine & Beauty Care and Functional).

Sales performance by region and product category in comparison to the first six months of the prior year in both reported dollars and local currency, where applicable, was as follows:

North America Fine & Beauty sales growth was driven primarily by new wins, weak year ago comparison levels, and some elements of re-stocking. The strong performance in Ingredients reflects broad-based volume gains and weak market conditions last year. Functional Fragrance sales were up due to strong Personal Wash growth with a smaller contribution from Fabric Care volume. Beverages sales led the growth in the Flavors business, with Savory and Confectionery also showing strong performance.

EAME showed strong sales gains across most categories, led by net new wins and demand recovery in Fine Fragrance and Ingredients as well as higher volume and new wins for Flavors, notably within the Beverage category. Re-stocking also supported growth across most categories.

Latin America sales performance was driven by a strong recovery in Fine & Beauty Care, new wins in Fabric Care and Home Care categories, and new wins and volume recovery in Confectionery and Savory for Flavors that more than offset the effects of non-strategic business lost last year.

Greater Asia delivered double-digit LC sales growth in all categories, except Ingredients, whose growth was 8%. Fine & Beauty Care gains were driven by new wins in Hair Care and Toiletries as well as demand recovery for Fine Fragrance off a weak prior year base. We continue to experience strong growth in Fabric Care and Home Care within Functional Fragrances while Flavor sales growth was driven by new product introductions and volume growth mainly in Savory and Beverage.

While we believe that the impact of re-stocking is an important driver of year-over-year sales growth, it is not possible to specifically quantify the impact either in total or by category. We have, however, seen evidence that the benefit from this driver has slowed through the course of the second quarter of 2010.

Consolidated Operating Results

The percentage relationship of cost of goods sold and other operating expenses to reported sales is as follows:

	Six months ended
	June 30,
	2010	2009
Cost of goods sold	57.9%	60.1%
Research and development expenses	8.2%	8.1%
Selling and administrative expenses	17.2%	16.7%

Cost of goods sold includes the cost of materials and manufacturing expenses; raw materials generally constitute 70% of the total. Research and development (R&D) expenses are for the development of new materials and delivery systems, new flavor and fragrance compounds, technical product support, compliance with governmental regulations, and help in maintaining relationships with customers who are often dependent on technological advances. Selling and administrative expenses support our sales and operating levels.

Cost of goods sold, as a percentage of sales, decreased to 57.9% in 2010 compared to 60.1% during 2009. The improvement in the first six months of 2010 versus the prior year period is mainly attributable to favorable input costs combined with better absorption resulting from higher volumes and continued margin recovery efforts. This improvement was partially offset by inventory write-offs and transition costs associated with the rationalization of our Fragrance and Ingredients operations in Europe.

R&D expenses increased approximately $17 million from the prior year. The increase is due to higher incentive compensation accruals of $9 million and lower R&D credits of $1 million. The remaining increase is due to higher basic research, targeted investments to support strategic growth initiatives, and lower prior period base comparison resulting from a significant curtailment in 2009 spend due to the prevailing economic crisis.

Selling and administrative expenses (S&A), as a percentage of sales, increased to 17.2% of sales compared to 16.7% for the first six months of 2009. Overall spending increased $39 million versus the prior year, mainly driven by higher provisions for incentive compensation of $21 million. The remaining variance is due to litigation related costs, planned investments to support growth, unfavorable foreign currency movements, and lower prior period base spending in 2009 due to the prevailing economic crisis.

Table of ContentsRestructuring and Other Charges

Restructuring and other charges primarily consist of separation costs for employees, including severance, outplacement and other benefit costs.

The Company has completed its previously announced negotiations with the Drogheda, Ireland employee representatives regarding separation benefits related to the closure of the Company's compounding facility at that location. Based upon the latest estimates regarding the separation agreements, the Company increased its provision for severance costs by approximately $4 million in the first quarter of 2010. The balance of the restructuring charges in the first six months of 2010 expense is mainly due to accelerated depreciation and other restructuring related costs pertaining to the rationalization of our Fragrance and Ingredients operations in Europe.

(In Thousands)	Restructuring Charges
	Three months ended June 30,		Six months ended June 30,
	2010	2009	2010	2009
Flavors	$	$ (363)	$	$ (363)
Fragrances	1,843	4,849	6,831	4,849
Global		(382)		(382)
Total	$ 1,843	$ 4,104	$ 6,831	$ 4,104

Interest Expense

In the first six months of 2010, interest expense totaled $24.8 million compared to $33.8 million in 2009. The 2009 amount includes $4 million of interest paid on the close-out of a cross-currency interest rate swap classified as a net investment hedge. The additional reduction versus 2009 reflects certain debt repayments of more than $210 million made during the second half of 2009 in connection with an advance prepayment of a Japanese Yen term loan and certain private placement loans. Average cost of debt was 4.9% for the 2010 period compared to 5.2% in 2009.

Other (Income) Expense, Net

Other expense of $4.9 million in the first six months of 2010 increased $4.5 million versus other expense of $0.4 million in 2009, mainly due to higher losses on foreign exchange transactions and losses recorded on our mark-to-market adjustments on the investments for the deferred compensation plans, compared to gains in the prior year.

Income Taxes

The effective tax rate was 28.3% for the six months ended June 30, 2010 as compared to a rate of 27.3% in the prior year. A lower effective tax rate on the restructuring charges had a greater relative impact on the 2010 rate due to the higher amounts recorded in 2009.

Operating Results by Business Unit

We evaluate the performance of business units based on operating profit before interest expense, other income (expense), net and income taxes. See Note 10 to our Consolidated Financial Statements for the reconciliation to Income before taxes.

Flavors

In the first six months of 2010, Flavors operating profit totaled $126 million, or 20.9% as a percentage of sales, compared to $107 million or 20.0% in 2009. The improvement in profitability was mainly driven by strong sales growth and better absorption, improving input costs and the benefits of our cost control initiatives. These improvements were partially offset by targeted investments in R&D and higher incentive compensation costs.

Fragrances

Fragrance operating profit for the first six months of 2010 was $121 million or 17.0%, as a percentage of sales, compared to $75 million or 12.6% reported in 2009. The improvement in profit was driven by higher volumes and lower input costs plus benefits associated with cost reduction initiatives implemented last year. The 2010 period includes $7 million of restructuring related charges related to the rationalization of our European fragrance manufacturing footprint compared to $5 million in the prior year period. Higher incentive compensation expense and lower R&D credits reduced operating profit in the first six months of 2010 compared to the prior year period.

Global Expenses

Global expenses represent corporate and headquarters-related expenses which include legal, finance, human resources and other administrative expenses that are not allocated to an individual business unit. In 2010, Global expenses for the first six months were $35 million compared to $17 million during the first six months of 2009. The increase is primarily due to higher incentive compensation accruals plus litigation related costs.

Financial Condition

Cash and cash equivalents totaled $110.6 million at June 30, 2010 compared to $80.1 million at December 31, 2009. Working capital of $728.3 million at June 30, 2010 increased $84.7 million compared to $643.6 million at December 31, 2009. Additions to property, plant and equipment for the six month period ended June 30, 2010 totaled $37.0 million. Gross additions to property, plant and equipment are expected to approximate 4% of sales for the full year 2010.

Operating cash flows in the first six months of 2010 were an inflow of $127.6 million, compared to an inflow of $87.5 million in the prior year period. The improvement reflects higher earnings in the current year period combined with improvements in working capital management that began in the second half of 2009. The large improvement in core working capital was driven by accounts payable reflecting a more disciplined approach in our purchase to pay process and to a lesser extent due to higher purchasing activity. The improvement in receivables is primarily due to a reduction in our past due accounts, and to a lesser extent, geographical sales mix and average customer payment terms. These benefits were partially offset by the effect of higher sales activity. The change in our inventory in 2009 resulted from our planning process, improvement initiatives and a rebalancing of purchased due to reduced sales volume. In 2010 our inventory movement is mainly due to higher raw material purchases supporting the increased sales volume.

At June 30, 2010, we had $983 million of debt outstanding comparable to the $1,012 million outstanding at December 31, 2009.

In February 2009, we closed out the $300 million USD London InterBank Offer Rate (LIBOR) to European InterBank Offer Rate (EURIBOR) interest rate swap for $16 million, of which a $12 million loss was deferred in AOCI where it will remain until the Euro net investment is divested and $4 million was included in earnings as a component of interest expense during the first quarter of 2009.

The Company pays a quarterly cash dividend of $0.25 per share to shareholders, which was unchanged as of quarter end in both 2010 and 2009. We funded a single quarterly dividend payment in each of the first two quarters of 2010 and 2009. On July 27, 2010, the Company's Board of Directors has authorized an 8% increase in the Company's quarterly cash dividend to $0.27 per share from the previous quarterly rate of $.25 per share.

No shares were repurchased on the open market during the six months ended June 30, 2010.

The Company leverages its credit worthiness to collateralize tax exposures related to certain administrative proceedings. With the current turmoil in the credit markets, the Company may be precluded from securing similar forms of collateral for unrecognized tax benefits. If this situation occurs, the Company may be required to self-fund any future collateral obligations.

We continue to generate strong operating cash flows and our multi-year revolving credit agreement (the Facility) remains in place. Cash flows from operations and availability under our existing credit facilities are expected to be sufficient to fund our currently anticipated normal capital spending and other expected cash requirements for at least the next eighteen months.

As of June 30, 2010 we had total borrowings under the Facility of $122 million. The amount which we are able to draw down on under the Facility is limited by financial covenants as described in more detail below. At June 30, 2010 we had a remaining overall borrowing capacity of $729 million. However, our drawdown capacity on the facility was limited by our remaining lending capacity of $713 million at June 30, 2010.

The Facility contains the most restrictive covenants requiring us to maintain, at the end of each fiscal quarter, a ratio of net debt for borrowed money to adjusted EBITDA in respect of the previous 12-month period of not more than 3.25 to 1. At June 30, 2010, we were in compliance with all financial and other covenants. At June 30, 2010 our Net Debt/ Adjusted EBITDA ⁽¹⁾ was 1.76 to 1 as defined by the debt agreements, well below the financial covenants of existing outstanding debt. Failure to comply with the financial and other covenants under these agreements would constitute default and would allow the lenders to accelerate the maturity of all indebtedness under the related agreement. If such acceleration were to occur, we would not have sufficient liquidity available to repay the indebtedness. We would likely have to seek amendments under the agreements for relief from the financial covenants or repay the debt with proceeds from the issuance of new debt or equity, and/or asset sales, if necessary. We may be unable to amend the agreements or raise sufficient capital to repay such obligations in the event the maturities are accelerated.

(1) Adjusted EBITDA and Net Debt, which are non-GAAP measures used for these covenants, are calculated in accordance with the definition in the debt agreements. In this context, these measures are used solely to provide information on the extent to which we are in compliance with debt covenants and may not be comparable to adjusted EBITDA and Net Debt used by other companies. Reconciliations of adjusted EBITDA to net income and net debt to total debt are as follows:

PART II. OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1A. Risk Factors

There have been no material changes in the risk factors previously disclosed in the Company's 2009 Form 10-K.

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

Popcorn Flavor Litigation.

In September 2001, the Company was named as a defendant in a purported class action brought against it in the Circuit Court of Jasper County, Missouri, on behalf of employees of a plant owned and operated by Gilster-Mary Lee Corp. in Jasper, Missouri (Benavides case). The plaintiffs alleged that they sustained respiratory injuries in the workplace due to the use by Gilster-Mary Lee of a BBA and/or IFF flavor. For purposes of reporting these actions, BBA and/or IFF are referred to as the Company .

In January 2004, the Court ruled that class action status was not warranted. As a result of this decision, each of the 47 plaintiff cases was to be tried separately. Subsequently, eight cases were tried to a verdict, four verdicts resulted for the plaintiffs and 4 verdicts resulted for the Company, all of which were appealed by the losing party. Subsequently all plaintiff cases related to the Benavides case, including those on appeal, were settled.

Fourteen actions based on similar claims of alleged respiratory illness due to workplace exposure to flavor ingredients are currently pending against the Company and other flavor suppliers and related companies.

In July 2004, the Company and another flavor supplier were named defendants, and subsequently 9 third and fourth party defendants were added, in a lawsuit by four former workers (and two spouses for loss of consortium) at a Ridgeway, Illinois factory in an action brought in the Circuit Court for the Second Judicial Circuit, Gallatin County, Illinois (Batteese case). In August 2006, the Company and another flavor supplier were named defendants in a lawsuit by ten current and former employees of the Gilster-Mary Lee facility in Jasper, Missouri in the Missouri Circuit Court of Jasper County (Arles case) and 1 former employees in the same Court (Bowan case).

In January 2007, the Company and another flavor supplier were named defendants in a lawsuit in Hamilton County, Ohio Court of Common Pleas by 57 current and former employees (plus 28 spousal loss of consortium claims) of two separate Marion, Ohio factories (Aldrich case). In June 2007, the Company and another flavor supplier were named defendants in a lawsuit filed in Hamilton County, Ohio Court of Common Pleas by 17 current and former employees (plus six spousal loss of consortium claims) of a Marion, Ohio facility (Arnold case). In July 2007, the Company and another flavor manufacturer were named defendants in a lawsuit filed in Hamilton County, Ohio Court of Common Pleas by 35 current and former workers (plus 13 spousal loss of consortium claims) of two Marion, Ohio facilities (Adamson case). In July 2007, the Company was joined as a defendant in a case filed in June 2005 against five companies and a trade association in the 8th Judicial District Court of Montana by the widow of the former owner/operator of a popcorn business in Montana (Yatsko case).

In March 2008, the Company and another flavor supplier were named defendants in two lawsuits in the Hamilton County, Ohio Court of Common Pleas, one by nine current and former employees and the spouses of two such employees of a popcorn plant in Marion, Ohio (Ferguson case) and the other by ten current and former employees and three spouses of such employees of the same plant (Brown case). In August 2008, the Company and seven other flavor and material suppliers were named defendants in a lawsuit by nine plaintiffs (plus eight loss of consortium claims) in the Hamilton County Court of Common Pleas (Auld case).

In September 2009, the Company, another flavor supplier and an employer were named as defendants in a law suit by the child of a worker at a Ridgeway, Illinois factory in an action brought in the Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois (Patton case). In December 2009, the Company, five other flavor manufacturers and five microwave popcorn manufacturers and distributors were named defendants in a lawsuit in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Iowa (and in an identical suit in case the Iowa suit was found to be an incorrect jurisdiction was filed in May 2010 in Superior Court of California, County of Los Angeles, Central District) by a consumer of microwave popcorn and her husband (Daughetee case).

In January 2010, the Company was named as a defendant in a law suit by four former workers (and their spouses) at a Ridgeway, Illinois factory in an action brought in the U.S. District Court for the Southern district of Illinois (Barker case). In May 2010, the Company and 36 other companies, many flavor and ingredient suppliers, were named defendants in a law suit by an employee (and his spouse) at a Forest park, Georgia food plant in an action brought in the State Court of Clayton County, Georgia (Anderson case).

The Company believes that all IFF and BBA flavors at issue in these matters meet the requirements of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration and are safe for handling and use by workers in food manufacturing plants when used according to specified safety procedures. These procedures are detailed in instructions that IFF and BBA provided to all their customers for the safe handling and use of their flavors. It is the responsibility of IFF's customers to ensure that these instructions, which include the use of appropriate engineering controls, such as adequate ventilation, prior handling procedures and respiratory protection for workers, are followed in the workplace.

At each balance sheet date, or more frequently as conditions warrant, the Company reviews the status of each pending claim, as well as its insurance coverage for such claims with due consideration given to potentially applicable deductibles, retentions and reservation of rights under its insurance policies, and the advice of its outside legal counsel and a third party expert in modeling insurance deductible amounts with respect to all these matters. While the ultimate outcome of any litigation cannot be predicted, management believes that adequate provision has been made with respect to all known claims. Based on information presently available and in light of the merits of its defenses and the availability of insurance, the Company does not expect the outcome of the above cases, singly or in the aggregate, to have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition, results of operation or liquidity. There can be no assurance that future events will not require the Company to increase the amount it has accrued for any matter or accrue for a matter that has not been previously accrued. See Note 13 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Patent Claims.

A complaint, captioned V. Mane Fils S.A. v. International Flavors and Fragrances, Inc. was filed in U.S. District Court in the District of New Jersey in May 2006, and alleges that the Company has and continues to infringe U.S. Patent Nos. 5,725,856 and 5,843,466, relating to a flavor ingredient that may provide a cooling effect. The Company answered the complaint by denying liability and asserting that both patents are invalid and various other defenses. In June 2008, plaintiff amended its complaint to add claims for violations of the Lanham Act, tortious interference and unfair competition. The Company answered the amended complaint by denying all liability. In connection with the patent claims, the plaintiff seeks monetary damages, damages for alleged willful infringement, injunctive relief and fees, costs and interest. In connection with the additional claims, plaintiff also seeks monetary damages, punitive damages, fees and costs. In May 2010, following reexamination of the patents in question by the U.S. Patent Office, all of the patent claims, initially rejected in the reexamination proceeding, were reallocated. The Company and the plaintiff have each filed motions for summary judgment with respect to various claims. No trial date has been scheduled. The Company denies the allegations and will defend its position in Court. The Company is unable to reasonably estimate the amount of loss, if any, related to this proceeding above its current accrual. Based on present information, the Company believes that its ultimate liability, if any, arising from this proceeding would not have a material adverse effect on its financial position or liquidity; however, due to the unpredictability regarding the litigation process, such claim, if ultimately resolved against us, could potentially have a material adverse effect on our cash flows or financial results in a particular period. An adverse outcome could also potentially affect our ability to sell one or more flavor products to the extent the Court ultimately issued an injunction related to the patents. The Company disputes the allegations of wrongdoing, believes it has meritorious defenses and is vigorously defending all claims.

Environmental

Over the past 20 years, various federal and state authorities and private parties have claimed that the Company is a Potentially Responsible Party (PRP) as a generator of waste materials for alleged pollution at a number of waste sites operated by third parties located principally in New Jersey and have sought to recover costs incurred and to be incurred to clean up the sites.

Table of Contents

The Company has been identified as a PRP at ten facilities operated by third parties at which investigation and/or remediation activities may be ongoing. The Company analyzes its liability on a regular basis. The Company accrues for environmental liabilities when they are probable and estimable. The Company estimates its share of the total future cost for these sites to be less than $5 million.

While joint and several liability is authorized under federal and state environmental laws, the Company believes the amounts it has paid and anticipates paying in the future for clean-up costs and damages at all sites are not and will not be material to the Company's financial condition, results of operations or liquidity. This conclusion is based upon, among other things, the involvement of other PRPs at most sites, the status of proceedings, including various settlement agreements and consent decrees, the extended time period over which payments will likely be made and an agreement reached in July 1994 with three of the Company's liability insurers pursuant to which defense costs and indemnity amounts payable by the Company in respect of the sites will be shared by the insurers up to an agreed amount.
