HOWARD SOLOMON

CHAIRMAN, PRESIDENT

AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

To All Employees,

This past Friday, investor Carl Icahn (and his affiliates) filed a 13d form with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, publicly disclosing his ownership of Forest options and stock. Mr. Icahn and his affiliates also filed a request in Delaware court to inspect the books and records of the Company. In these materials, Mr. Icahn was critical of our company's management and our recent performance.

While we welcome constructive input from our shareholders, we respectfully disagree with Mr. Icahn. Forest has wisely anticipated the expiration of the Lexapro patent many years before that event, and acquired and developed seven new products, three of which have been already launched, two of which will be launched this summer, and two more of which will be filed this year and launched next year, subject to FDA approval. As always, there are additional products in late stage development, as well as many exciting opportunities under consideration and in negotiation. Our track record of success is further reflected in our share price, which has outperformed the S&P 500 index over the last year, last three years and last five years. In fact, as reported recently by Forbes, Forest has achieved a 23 percent annualized return for shareholders during my 34 year tenure at the Company.

Mr. Icahn is also critical of the Company's decision to support my challenge to the potential exclusion action by the Office of the Inspector General of the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS-OIG). As I have stated in prior communications to you, I have not been accused of any wrongdoing by the government, and the HHS-OIG's notice of its intention to consider excluding me is an unprecedented action, based solely on my role as a director and officer of the Company, and not on any individual conduct. I remain committed to challenging this potential action through the legal process, and I have been grateful for the support I have received from the Company and from many of you.

Over the next several weeks, you may continue to read about Mr. Icahn's attacks in the press. These criticisms are typical of someone who is looking to get media attention and investor support for director nominations, and I urge you not to be distracted by them. The best thing you can do is to stay focused on your responsibilities. As always, any media or shareholder inquiries should be directed to Frank Murdolo at (212) 224-6714.

Thank you again for your hard work and dedication to Forest.

Sincerely,

Howard Solomon

Chairman, Chief Executive Officer and President
