TEVA PROVIDES UPDATE ON GENERIC PULMICORT RESPULES® LAUNCH

Jerusalem, Israel, November 20, 2008 - Teva Pharmaceutical Industries Ltd. (Nasdaq: TEVA) announces that further to its press release dated November 19, 2008, the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey has granted AstraZeneca's request for a temporary order restraining further sales of Teva's generic version of AstraZeneca's Pulmicort (Budesonide) Respules® pending the Court's decision on AstraZeneca's motion for a preliminary injunction.

As part of the same ruling, AstraZeneca and its partner Par Pharmaceuticals are to suspend distribution of AstraZeneca's own authorized generic.

A preliminary injunction hearing in this matter is scheduled to begin on November 25, 2008 at 12:30 p.m. A trial has been scheduled for January 12, 2009.

Teva's launch yesterday was pursuant to FDA approval of its generic version of AstraZeneca's Pulmicort (Budesonide) Respules® and the denial of AstraZeneca's Citizen Petition on this product. Teva has full confidence in the strength of its legal position on this matter.

Safe Harbor Statement under the U. S. Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995:

This release contains forward-looking statements, which express the current beliefs and expectations of management. Such statements are based on management's current beliefs and expectations and involve a number of known and unknown risks and uncertainties that could cause our future results, performance or achievements to differ significantly from the results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Important factors that could cause or contribute to such differences include risks relating to: our ability to successfully develop and commercialize additional pharmaceutical products, the introduction of competing generic equivalents, the extent to which we may obtain U.S. market exclusivity for certain of our new generic products and regulatory changes that may prevent us from utilizing exclusivity periods, competition from brand-name companies that are under increased pressure to counter generic products, or competitors that seek to delay the introduction of generic products, the impact of consolidation of our distributors and customers, potential liability for sales of generic products prior to a final resolution of outstanding patent litigation, including that relating to the generic versions of Allegra[®], Neurontin[®], Lotrel[®] and Protonix[®], the effects of competition on our innovative products, especially Copaxone[®] sales, the impact of pharmaceutical industry regulation and pending legislation that could affect the pharmaceutical industry, the difficulty of predicting U.S. Food and Drug Administration, European Medicines Agency and other regulatory authority approvals, the regulatory environment and changes in the health policies and structures of various countries, our ability to achieve expected results through our innovative R&D efforts, our ability to successfully identify, consummate and integrate acquisitions, including the pending acquisition of Barr Pharmaceuticals Inc., potential exposure to product liability claims to the extent not covered by insurance, dependence on the effectiveness of our patents and other protections for innovative products, significant operations worldwide that may be adversely affected by terrorism, political or economical instability or major hostilities, supply interruptions or delays that could result from the complex manufacturing of our products and our global supply chain, environmental risks, fluctuations in currency, exchange and interest rates, and other factors that are discussed in this report and in our other filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC").
