ROYAL CARIBBEAN REPORTS FIRST QUARTER 2002 RESULTS

Edgar Filing: ROYAL CARIBBEAN CRUISES LTD - Form 6-K

MIAMI - (April 24, 2002) - Royal Caribbean Cruises Ltd. (NYSE, OSE: RCL) announced today that net income for the first quarter was $53 million, essentially the same as the first quarter of 2001. Earnings per share were $0.27 for the first quarter in both 2002 and 2001. Net income for the quarter was negatively impacted by $5 million in guest and travel agent related expenses due to the unanticipated drydock of two ships.

Revenues for the first quarter of 2002 were up 10%, at $800 million compared to $727 million in 2001. The increase in revenues was due primarily to an increase in capacity, offset by a decline in yields (net revenues per available passenger cruise day). Yields were down 7% for the first quarter of 2002 compared to the first quarter of 2001, primarily as a result of pricing actions taken in the months immediately following the terrorist attacks of September 11. Bookings during these months were taken at significantly discounted prices. By January, pricing on new bookings for the first quarter was only marginally lower than during the same period the prior year.

On an available passenger cruise day basis, operating and SG&A expenses were down 14% for the quarter. On the same basis, SG&A costs for the quarter were down 27%. This reduction was achieved through cost containment measures taken by the company, as well as the timing of marketing expenses. Certain operating expenses were also lower due to the impact of September 11 on the travel industry. In particular, travel agent commissions were lower due to lower cruise pricing, and air travel expenses were lower due to reduced air/sea levels. The percentage of passengers who chose to book their air passage through Royal Caribbean dropped from 31% in the first quarter of 2001 to 20% this year. Both commission and travel costs are expected to return to more normal levels as the year progresses. The company anticipates that full year operating and SG&A costs, excluding fuel costs, will be down approximately 5% on an available passenger cruise day basis.

"We are extremely pleased with the speed and strength of the industry's recovery," said Richard D. Fain, Chairman and CEO of Royal Caribbean Cruises Ltd. "Clearly, the powerful fundamentals of our company and our industry have been proven in recent months. I am encouraged both by the recovery of pricing levels and by the company's ability to manage costs. We are committed to continuing our efforts on both fronts."

In recent weeks, pricing has returned to pre-September 11 levels. Looking forward, based on current pricing trends and booking levels, yields are expected to be down 5-7% in the second and third quarters relative to 2001. Booking patterns continue to be closer in than in prior years and visibility for the fourth quarter is therefore limited.

The company will introduce Constellation, the fourth Millennium-class ship, in May, and Brilliance of the Seas, the second of the Radiance-class series, in July. The company is also considering asking the shipyard to accelerate by a few weeks the delivery of Navigator of the Seas, the fourth Voyager-class ship. If so, the ship would be delivered in December 2002 in time to take advantage of the holiday sailings. The company has also announced that it will deploy six ships in the Europe next year, more than doubling its product offerings there.

"Our new ships continue to generate strong consumer demand in the marketplace," said Fain. "Based on the improved pricing trends in the market and the timing of the holiday season, we think a slightly earlier delivery date for Navigator of the Seas may provide an advantageous revenue opportunity."

The company has scheduled a conference call at 10 a.m. today to discuss its earnings. This call can be listened to, either live or on a delayed basis, on
