VIA FACSIMILE AND OVERNIGHT COURIER

Allen Bernstein
Chairman and CEO
Morton's Restaurant Group, Inc.
3333 New Hyde Park Road
New Hyde Park, NY 11042

Dear Mr. Bernstein:

Six months ago BFMA Holding Corporation made a fully financed offer for Morton's Restaurant Group, Inc. at $28.25 per share. Since that time, you, John Castle, Tom Baldwin and others under your and their direction have thwarted our every effort to acquire Morton's. In doing so, you have made a number of false, misleading and disparaging statements about BFMA and its principals.

It was obvious to us over nine months ago that you and your management team were, and had been for a long time, attempting to capture the real value potential of Morton's for yourselves. In furtherance of this goal, you and your cronies took actions to depress the share price, granted yourselves a tremendous number of options and used the company's desperately-needed cash to repurchase its own stock. The result was substantially to increase the percentage of the company owned by you and those friendly to you. You also issued new and substantial "golden parachutes" to a large number of your employees to make it more expensive for a third-party to buy the company. Only after BFMA launched a proxy fight to call attention to this egregious behavior did you agree to stop some of these actions. In addition, in order to save your jobs and your directorships, you committed to the institutional stockholders who elected you, John Castle and Tom Baldwin as directors to explore strategic alternatives, including the sale of the company.

Unfortunately, the "special committee" you formed to oversee the exploration of strategic alternatives has not acted in good faith to maximize value for the company's public stockholders. While the special committee issued some weak language to the public about accepting expressions of interest, the special committee never really moved the process forward. Many potential buyers that expressed an interest in Morton's were openly rebuffed and other interested parties were induced into signing restrictive confidentiality and standstill agreements and then were not provided with information they requested or that was necessary to make firm offers. The whole process was an insult to all of the stockholders who elected you. Moreover, the special committee was headed by John Castle, who we insisted from the beginning had a substantial conflict of interest and should not even be on the committee.

In BFMA's case, the special committee delayed the process just long enough for our financing commitment to expire and then declared that BFMA's offer was not "not serious" because you claimed that neither BFMA nor Carl Icahn had demonstrated to Greenhill, the special committee's financial advisor, that the necessary funds were available. Prior to that time, both BFMA and Icahn Associates had clearly demonstrated that they had the capital necessary to consummate the transaction. The process was a complete farce but that was not at all surprising to us. In fact, we stated at our first meeting with Greenhill that your plan was to delay the process with the sole intention of claiming that our offer was "not serious" once our financing commitment expired. With the stock now at just over $12.00, each public shareholder has lost more than $16.00 per share as a direct result of your actions.

Edgar Filing: BFMA HOLDING CORP - Form SC 13D/A

In the last week, we have learned John Castle resigned several months ago as head of the special committee and his counsel has also resigned as counsel to the special committee. Of course, at the same time that we were informed that he had resigned we were also led by Greenhill to believe that such resignation had been publicly disclosed. The next day we were once again assured by new counsel to the special committee that Mr. Castle's resignation had been publicly disclosed. Not surprisingly, no record of any such disclosure can be found. Moreover, prior to Mr. Castle's departure from the special committee, he managed the process in such a way as to thwart all third-party efforts (including BFMA's) to buy Morton's. We can only suspect that Mr. Castle's motivation to resign from the special committee without also resigning from the board of directors is that he intends to submit a "low-ball" bid to acquire Morton's. Despite his resignation from the special committee, his continued presence and the presence of his associates on the board of directors will allow him to manipulate the sale process to his advantage. This is further evidence of your plan to hide behind a feigned sale process and to allow your cronies to steal the company away from the public stockholders at a substantially lower price than the $28.25 per share in cash BFMA had offered. Only a few months ago, you were telling stockholders that our offer was inadequate. Since then the stock has fallen over 50% and so far you have done very little to improve the situation. Consistent with our prior predictions, we believe that you, John Castle, Tom Baldwin and the rest of the directors are acting in your own interests and not on behalf of Morton's public stockholders and that you are attempting, through fraud and deception, to steal value from the public stockholders.

As you are well aware, we remain interested in acquiring the company and once again, at the suggestion of Greenhill, contacted the new counsel to the special committee to negotiate a confidentiality agreement. The result of those negotiations is that the special committee will not let us into the process unless we agree to "standstill provisions" for a period of three years. The special committee informed our counsel that they have not asked us to agree to any provision in the confidentiality agreement that they didn't get the other bidders to agree to. Even if true, that statement does not justify the restrictions sought to be imposed on BFMA. First, given our substantial stock ownership in the Company and our past actions, it is clearly not in the best interest of stockholders to seek to prevent BFMA from soliciting proxies to oppose an undesirable transaction or seek to remove the incumbent directors. Second, no other bidder in the process has an investment in the company as large as ours nor has any other bidder acted in any manner to protect the interests of the public stockholders as BFMA has. In addition, the special committee has insisted upon the right to withhold from BFMA information it deems "inadvisable or inappropriate." That, too, is contrary to the interests of stockholders in maximizing value. This is especially true since John Castle obviously has had and currently has unrestricted access to all Morton's information.

less than $20 per share today would significantly undervalue the company. Despite your poor management and despite the current difficult economic times, we believe that the value of the Morton's franchise remains strong.

We are appalled by the actions of you and your board thus far. It is clear to us that the board has failed to provide independent and ethical oversight to this process. Unless the sale process recently announced by the company is demonstrated to be fair, open and equal to all parties, you can expect us to continue to be a shareholder activist. We will not stand by idly and let you, John Castle and Tom Baldwin steal value away from the public stockholders.

Sincerely,

/s/ Barry W. Florescue
