* This selling securityholder has advised us that it is a broker or dealer. Accordingly, under interpretations by the staff of the SEC, the selling securityholder is deemed an underwriter within the meaning of the Securities Act

 This selling stockholder has advised us that it is an affiliate of a broker-dealer and that it purchased the securities reflected in this table as being owned by it in the ordinary course of business and, at the time of that purchase, it had no agreements or understandings, directly or indirectly, with any person to distribute those securities.

(1) The selling securityholder is also the beneficial owner.

(2) Information about other selling securityholders was provided in the base prospectus and may be provided in other prospectus supplements.

(3) If the selling securityholder is not, and is not a wholly-owned subsidiary of, a company that is required to file periodic and other reports with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to Section 13(a) or 15(d) of the Securities and Exchange Act, the natural person(s) who exercise voting power and investment control over the securities is list.

- (4) In each case, none of these securities were held prior to this offering.
- (5) Based on the principal amount of convertible subordinated debentures originally issuable in exchange for the Series A preferred shares, calculated by reference to the initial liquidation preference of the Series A preferred shares of $1,000 per share.
- (6) Based on the common shares originally issuable upon conversion of the Series A preferred shares or the convertible subordinated debentures, based on a conversion rate of 100.4016 common shares for each Series A preferred share, with fractions rounded up to the nearest whole share. The number of common shares so issuable is subject to increase as a result of antidilution adjustments. No fractional shares will be issued upon conversion of the Series A preferred shares.
